212 Expedition Kids Comics!

Whether you're young or old, regardless of your tastes and interests, there's no denying the appeal of a well written, well-drawn comic book or graphic novel. Our Expedition Kids Comics theme for the month points out plenty of great titles available for readers of any age, plus interviews with some top all-ages creators. See page 212!

FS-1 The Valentino Experience

Image Comics co-founder Jim Valentino has been around a long time, and lately he's been focusing a lot of his energy on books for kids... including the critically acclaimed fairy tale anthology, Fractured Fables. In conjunction with our Expedition Kids Comics theme this month, we talked to Valentino for our FlipSide interview about his process, writing for kids, and more!

USER'S guide

At first glance, PREVIEWS can be overwhelming because it's packed with tons of cool stuff. But there's a rhyme and reason to this mag-a-log and here's how to use it!

You now hold in your hands the latest issue of PREVIEWS, the monthly mag-alog dedicated to comics, graphic novels, toy and other pop-culture merchandise. If it's in your comic shop, it's in the page of PREVIEWS!

PREMIER COMICS BOOKS & MAGAZINES TRADING CARDS APPAREL MERCHANDISE GAMES VIDEOS

What is PREVIEWS?

PREVIEWS is part magazine, part catalog—a "mag-alog" of all comics and pop-culture merchandise found at your local comic shop.

We've broken down the product listings by easy-to-understand sections: Comics & Graphic Novels; Books; Trading Cards; Toys, Statues & Models, and more.

Each month, you'll find detailed listings for almost every comic book and pop-culture product that will be available in comic shops in 2 months. So, if you're looking at the April issue of PREVIEWS, most items will be in comic shops sometime in June.

How do I order from PREVIEWS?

Ordering from PREVIEWS is easy! There are 3 simple ways to order:

1. Use the Short Order Form. Fill in with the items you'd like to order from this issue.
2. Ask for the companion Customer Order Form. We offer a companion order form that features a complete listing of every product offered in that month's issue of PREVIEWS. Fill out what you want to order and hand in to your comic ship by the due date on the cover!
3. Ask your retailer about their "Pull & Hold" service. Many retailers offer a "pull & hold" or subscription service where you can order your monthly comics and merchandise easily. They'll hold your orders for you and you can pick up your items when it's convenient for you! Be sure to ask your retailer to give you a copy or PREVIEWS, Marvel PREVIEWS, and the PREVIEWS Customer Order Form each month so you can place your orders easily!

Not sure where to find a local comic shop?

PREVIEWS legend

Throughout this issue of PREVIEWS, you'll find a variety of symbols and terms that will help you in select items from this catalog. Here's what they mean:

Gems of the Month
The top offerings of the month, as chosen by our Premier publishers—these are the best bets in comics whether it's the next high-profile project or a new ongoing series.

Featured Items
In other sections, you'll find Featured Items, the top monthly products offered in their categories.

Spotlight On
These items are not to be missed; highlighted to get your attention.

Previews Exclusive
These are items available only through PREVIEWS! When you see this icon, you'll know you're ordering a limited item found nowhere else!

Featured Theme
Each month, PREVIEWS features a different theme to highlight certain titles and products. Look for that month's themed icon to find these selected items.

Certified Cool
Are you looking for the next title that pushes the envelope? Then try our one of our Certified Cool titles; books specially earmarked for readers who are looking for something a little different.

Staff Pick
This icon denotes items that have been reviewed by our staff and are worthy of a second look!

Indie Edge
The cutting edge of independent comics and creators, look for this icon on selected titles throughout the Comics & Graphic Novels section.

Star of the Month
These are best-selling backlist items that are available for immediate order from your local comic shop, and usually available for pick-up in about a week!

Offered Again (O/A)
These items have been previously offered before in PREVIEWS and are being made available again.

PI or Please Inquire
Your store will set the price for all "Please Inquire" items — check with your retailer for the price on these items.

MSRP or SRP
Manufacturer's/Suggested Retail Price. These designations provide suggested pricing information for a majority of items not carrying a retail price. Actual prices may vary depending upon market conditions. Please check with your retailer.

Caution (CAUT: #-#-#)
Cautions listed at the end of catalog descriptions indicate an item that may ship late or otherwise diverge from its Previews description. These codes are separated into three categories:

International Rights (I-Rights) — the item is restricted into what countries it can be sold.
- 0 = No International Rights restriction;
- 1 = International Rights are restricted.

Content Changes — the content may change after solicitation.
- 0 = No Content disclaimer;
- 1 = Content disclaimer enforced.

Ship Date Changes — the final shipping date may differ or change from the scheduled ship date.
- 0 = Product will ship according to schedule;
- 1 = Product may ship an additional 60 days beyond scheduled ship date;
- 2 = Additional 90 days beyond scheduled ship date;
- 3 = Additional 120 days beyond scheduled ship date;
- 4 = Product may ship at any time beyond scheduled ship date.

PREVIEWS* Abbreviations
SC = Softcover, HC = Hardcover, TP = Trade Paperback, MMPB = Mass Market Paperback, FC = Full-Color, b&w= Black & White; PC = Partial Color

A NOTE TO TOY COLLECTORS:
Your retailer cannot guarantee receiving specific items — such as action figures — when they must be ordered in case or "assortment" quantities. Please be aware of this when ordering action figures and other items designated as cases or assortments.

ARTbaltazarARTbaltazarARTbaltazarARTbaltazarARTbaltazarARTbaltazarARTbaltazarARTbaltazarARTbaltazarART

This month's featured creator is...

ART BALTAZAR

Art Baltazar is an Artist & Writer best known for DC's Tiny Titans and Billy Batson & the Magic of Shazam!, as well as his own creator-owned series, Patick the Wolf Boy.

PREVIEWS: How would you describe your favorite comics project to a young reader to get them excited about it?

Art Baltazar: AW YEAH! Comics are just Awesome! Reading about comics can transport you to an imaginary fantasy world filled with heroes, villains, action and adventure! Boys like cool costumes and capes and bright colors and lots of animals! Girls like to see girl characters wearing pink stuff, bunnies and lots of animals. Notice, kids really dig animals. I would describe something like this... "Hey, check this out! This comic has cool characters with super crazy action! And look at this funny guy! I can't wait to see what he does! Check out those pointy teeth! Wow is that her dog! Look at all the animals! Can't wait to see what happens in this issue!" At least that's what I do with my kids. Aw yeah.

P: What do you think is the most essential building block in crafting a story geared toward young readers? And how have you employed it in one of your more recent projects?

Art: The most important part of making awesome stories for younger readers is to make them funny and entertaining. If a joke makes me laugh while writing, I know it's funny and it should go in the comic. Most important too is never talk down to kids. Kids are very smart, much smarter than people think. My least favorite are comics that try to teach kids lessons. Kids want to read comics because they are cool and funny with exciting characters and stories. I remember all the things I liked as a kid and try to write and draw that stuff into my comics for all to read.

P: What was your favorite comic as a kid? And how does it continue to influence you today?

Art: I really liked Spider-Man comics and Superman and Harvey Comics with Richie Rich and Casper! I really, really like Hanna-Barbera cartoons and the Adam West Batman TV show! Hanna-Barbera has been a big influence, especially Tom and Jerry, Magilla Gorilla and The Flintstones! Some people told me I even show some Hanna-Barbera in my awesome art style! I often draw characters chillin' with their arms to the side much like H-B did. Aw yeah, Influence!

P: Tell us about some of your projects!

The best Book out there for kids is DC Comics' Tiny Titans by me, Art Baltazar, and Franco! They are the same Teen Titans that you know and love, they are just a lot smaller. There is Super Hero Sidekick action, adventure, fun, awesomeness, and romance! Well as much romance as there is in first grade. Mostly between Beast Boy and Terra's rock throwing.
Tiny Titans Vol. 1: Welcome to the Treehouse TP (NOV080197)
Tiny Titans Vol. 2: Adventures in Awesomeness TP (FEB090225)
Tiny Titans Vol. 3: Sidekickin' It TP (NOV090199)
Tiny Titans Vol. 4: The First Rule of Pet Club TP (JUN100232)

Also! Billy Batson and the Magic of SHAZAM! is another awesome comic! Mike Norton's artwork is incredible and the stories are action packed Super Hero style! The adventures of Billy and Mary should get any kids attention! Especially if the young readers crave excitement!
Billy Batson and The Magic of Shazam! TP (FEB100218)

P: What titles would you recommend for readers 6 to 12-years-old?

My kids like Archie and Toy Story comics when we go to the comic shop, so you know they are doing it right! My kids know the Toy Story characters real well, so when they see them, they are easily recognizable. Kind of like the same thing with me and Magilla Gorilla. Also, my little girl gets mad if Veronica is hugging anyone else besides Archie!
Adventures of Little Archie Vol. 1 TP (JAN088129)
Toy Story Vol. 1: The Return of Buzz Lightyear TP (JAN100839)

Chris Giarrusso! His G-Man comic from Image is great super hero action all-ages reading with a twist of adventure! Also check out his work on Mini-Marvels...you'll be glad ya did.
G-Man Vol. 1: Learning to Fly TP (MAR092415)
Mini-Marvels: Ultimate Collection GN (OCT090619)

Debbie Huey! Creator of Bumper Boy comics! A great comic for first timers with cute, child-like characters who try to solve little problems they may encounter. Great comic that's all about friendship! I love Debbie's comics and buy them whenever I see 'em!
Bumperboy and The Loud, Loud Mountain GN (MAY062772)

Jacob Chabot! Creator of the Mighty Skull-Boy Army! Jacob's art is terrific! I'm a big fan! He has very cool and clever stories with punch-lines ya' don't see coming! Jacob also draws the X-Babies and Spider-Ham!

EDITOR'S note

YOU KNOW... FOR KIDS!

Typically, seeing as this is October and Halloween is later this month, I'd be talking about horror movies and monsters and stuff like that in this space. But ever since we started listing all of our Halloween wares in our July issue, it all just seems a little too late to bring up. Don't get me wrong, I still love Halloween, and will most likely be in front of the TV watching some old monster movies come October 31. But mostly I'll be watching the debut of AMC's adaptation of Robert Kirkman's The Walking Dead. I for one cannot wait to see what Frank Darabont and company have created. They have a great respect and admiration for the source material, so I know a lot of you are as eager to see it as me...

But its definitely not for kids! However, this month's issue of PREVIEWS features the theme, "Expedition Kids Comics", which hopes to draw your attention to material that is not only great for kids, but also readers of all ages.

We've got an overview of recommended titles beginning on page 212 of this issue, and once you see what's there, you'll see that "all-ages" doesn't necessarily mean for kids only. Also, directly following these recommended titles, you'll find a quartet of mini-interviews with some of today's hottest young creators who are producing some of the best all-ages material out there.

Also, our Indie Edge this month profiles Tiny Titans' own Art Baltazar, and even Image co-founder Jim Valentino gets into the spirit of the month with an exclusive interview in our FlipSide section.

So, whether you have kids of your own, nieces, nephews, or are just looking for something fun to read, this month's issue is filled to the brim with possibilities!

WOLVERINE MAY BE THE BEST THERE IS — BUT WILL THAT BE ENOUGH?

In the course of Wolverine's long life, he has fought countless enemies. From street toughs to ronin, Yakuza to the Russian mafia, Magneto to the Hulk, Wolverine's list of vanquished foes would easily fill the Manhattan phone book. Wolverine possesses instinctual muscle memory honed in battles across the decades, razor-sharp Adamantium claws that can cut through anything and give him a decided edge in one-on-one combat, and a mutant healing factor that, no matter how brutal the fight, lets him kick his wounds and fight another day. A brawler and a berserker, Wolverine thinks with his fists and his claws, leaving a trail of broken and bloodied bodies in his wake, but what happens when popping his claws and taking a swing is the absolutely wrong thing to do?

Charlie Huston (Moon Knight) and Juan Jose Ryp answer this question in their new ongoing series, Wolverine: The Best There Is. A new threat surfaces, a man named Contagion. A man of charm, grace and erudition, Contagion would not seem like much of a threat to the mutant, but a single drop of Contagion's blood could kill millions — with the result that a frontal assault by Wolverine on his body would have disastrous repercussions. Worse, Contagion is defended by a band of henchmen who call themselves "The Unkillables," including Madcap, Immortalis, and Harry Sykes, all of whom have healing abilities to similar Wolverine's. Confronted both by the physical challenge of defeating The Unkillables and the mental challenge of stopping Contagion, Wolverine's abilities will be tested to the max and he will be forced to live up to his credo of being "the best there is."

"I'm the best there is at what I do. But what I do best isn't very nice."

— Wolverine, Uncanny X-Men #162

This marks the dawn of a new era for one of Marvel Comics' top heroes. Juan Jose Ryp, best known for his work with Warren Ellis on Avatar Press' Black Summer and No Hero, matches his hyper-detailed, visceral art style to the dark, grim storytelling of Charlie Huston as they take Wolverine into mature and uncharted territory. Wolverine: The Best There Is is Wolverine unleashed, and it all begins this December!

Afternoon television in the 1980s was filled with amazing action-adventure cartoons. Thundercats. Transformers. And Voltron: Defender of the Universe. Voltron was, for many, the creme de la creme: the story of a group of space pilots whose transforming vehicles became lions which could then join together into the giant mega-robot Voltron. Twenty years ago, the Disney Afternoon was a two-hour block of top-notch Disney animated series, among them The Adventures of the Gummi Bears, DuckTales, Darkwing Duck, and Chip 'n Dale Rescue Rangers' BOOM Kids! has launched all-new adventures of two of these animated classics — DuckTales in the pages of Uncle Scrooge, Darkwing Duck in its own series — and a third, Chip 'n' Dale Rescue Rangers, joins the BOOM Kids! line-up this December!

This fan-favorite team of diminutive detectives and adventurers — chipmunks Chip and Dale, mice Monterey Jack and Gadget Hackwrench and housfly Zipper — are on the trail of new mysteries and new exploits. Chronicled by Darkwing Duck writer Ian Brill and Super Hero Squad's Leonel Castellani, Chip 'n' Dale's Rescue Rangers will bring back that classic Disney Afternoon excitement. Don't miss out!

THE NEXT CHAPTER FOR THE NEXT MEN IS ABOUT TO BEGIN

THEY'RE BAAAACK!
NEXT MEN

■ IDW PUBLISHING, $3.99, 32 Pages, Page 140

In the early 1990's, one of the top independent comics was John Byrne's Next Men. Part of the deconstructive movement that, like Watchmen, looked at superpowers within the context of real life, Next Men chronicled the adventures of five youths — Nathan, Jasmine, Jack, Bethany, and Danny — who were part of a government experiment to create the next stage in human evolution. Held in captivity inside a virtual reality world which kept their powers in check, they were freed from the government facility that held them, and they went on the run from the government agencies who wanted to capture them, including Senator Aldus Hilltop, and the mysterious being known as Sathanus. The series ended on a cliffhanger — were the Next Men really about to be eaten by a dinosaur? — and now, after fifteen years, the answers will be revealed! John Byrne returns with Next Men #1 from IDW Publishing to complete the story he began nearly twenty years ago. The stakes have never been higher — Nathan is apparently trapped in the Jurassic Age, Aldus Hilltop has consolidated his power — and the stage is set for the second act of Byrne's magnum opus. Next Men is one of comics' great talents unchained, and whether you were a fan of the original Dark Horse Comics run or a reader looking for a realistic take on super-powered humans and their world, IDW Publishing's Next Men #1 is the book you want this December!

Lady Death, comics' ultimate bad girl, is back — and in her new series from Boundless she's going to be challenged as she never has been before. Her kingdom defeated and oppressed, her powers gone, Lady Death must find a way to regain her throne and her powers — and it is a quest that will span a continent and take readers into the supernatural realm and back. The medieval bad girl adventure begins this December in Boundless' Lady Death #0!

DARK CHOICES WILL BE MADE IN DARK HORSE'S LET ME IN: CROSSROADS

Vampires. Bloodsucking creatures of the night, vicious and monstrous, primal and repellant and, above all, inhuman. Yet, the vampire genre has shifted in the past twenty years, toward sympathetic anti-heroes, dissolute and tortured souls, and sparkly near-humans. In a genre that has become typified by the works of Anne Rice, Laurell K. Hamilton, and Stephenie Meyer, the vampires of John Ajvide Lindqvist's Let the Right One In are refreshing for their brutality, their depravity, and their unspeakable iniquity.

This October Cloverfield's Matthew Reeves adapts the best-selling novel as Let Me In, with Kick-Ass' Chloe Moretz as the centuries-old vampire Abby. Dark Horse Comics expands on the film's story with the four-part mini-series Let Me In: Crossroads that explores the relationship between the child-like Abby and her human "guardian," trapped in a life of providing Abby with fresh blood while protecting her from inquisitive human eyes.

After you see Let Me In, pick up Marc Andreyko and Patrick Reynolds' Let Me In: Crossroads for an essential chapter in Abby's unspeakably horrific unlife, with nary a sparkly anti-heroic vampire in sight!

TAKE A CHANCE ON DIAMOND SELECT'S GAMBIT 356

The mutant Remy LeBeau is known for three things — his preternatural Cajun charm, his unending good luck, and his ability to manipulate kinetic energy. Operating under the code name Gambit, he has long served in the X-Men. This winter, he becomes the newest member of the X-Men to join Diamond Select Toys' Marvel Select action figure line. Complete with a comics-accurate costume and his trademark deck of cards, Gambit is ready to beguile you with his bayou ways — and dole out a kinetic energy punishment as only he can!

HARRY POTTER SOARS INTO ACTION WITH MEDICOM'S NEW FIGURE 398

A decade ago Warner Brothers brought the first of J.K. Rowling's beloved fantasy novels to the silver screen with Harry Potter and the Sorcerer's Stone. This Christmas, the conclusion of Rowling's epic tale of a young wizard's role in the defeat of the ultimate evil begins in Harry Potter and the Deathly Hollows, Part 1, and Medicom brings the titular hero to life as the Harry Potter RAH (Real Action Hero) Figure. Standing 12" tall, Harry comes wearing his Gryffindor House robes, with his magic wand and Quidditch broom.

WHO YOU GONNA CALL? MATTEL'S GHOSTBUSTERS FIGURES, OF COURSE! 366

When there's an enormous demonically-possessed marshmallow man striding through lower Manhattan, who are you going to call? The Department of Homeland Security? Surely not! Call the Ghostbusters! The heroes of Harold Ramis' 1984 film — Peter Venkman, Egon Spengler, Ray Stantz, and Winston Zeddemore — are back for action with Mattel's Ghostbusters Retro Action Figures. These 8" tall figures have a MEGO-style look and feel, from the heft of the figure to their cloth costumes. Collect all four!

381 FEEL THE POWER OF IRON MAN WITH THE ARC REACTOR REPLICA

The Arc Reactor. Such a little piece of technology, but without it Tony Stark's Iron Man suit would lack for power. Redesigned for 2010's Iron Man 2 and a new generation of Iron Man suits, Museum Replicas brings the Arc Reactor out of Stark Industries and into your hands with the Iron Man 2 Arc Reactor Replica. This recreation of Iron Man's power source features a lighted interior and a display stand. It won't power your war on the international criminal underworld, but it will look awesome on your desk!

378 WITNESS THE POWER OF THE ANGELUS WITH C.S. MOORE'S NEW STATUE

The Top Cow Universe, created by Marc Silvestri, has been balanced for centuries in an eternal struggle between the masculine and the feminine, between the darkness and the light. The dark masculine is embodied by The Darkness, the light feminine by the Angelus. The latest to host the power of the Angelus is former Witchblade bearer Dani Baptiste, and she is brought to life, in her celestial form, by C.S. Moore for the stunning 1/6-scale Angelus Statue. Standing 21" tall, with her wings spread, this statue truly captures the power of the divine.

358 SUMMON JAZWARES'S ROBOT CHICKEN ACTION FIGURES

Seth Green, star of Buffy the Vampire Slayer, Austin Powers, and Greg the Bunny, brought his unique comic sensibilities to [adult swim] with the stop-motion animated series Robot Chicken. Combining the ethos of sketch comedy with zany pop-culture references and puns Robot Chicken has become a true cult phenomena, and this winter it explodes from your television to take over your action figure collection with the all-new Robot Chicken Action Figures! Fans of the series will find characters such as Candy Bear, Action Robot, and Mad Scientist, all ready to collect!

MIGHTY SAMSON #1

Jim Shooter (W), Patrick Olliffe (A/Cover), Dan Jackson (C), and Raymond Swanland (Cover)

On sale Dec 15	FC, 48 pages
$3.50	ONGOING

Five hundred years after the end of the world, amid the ruins of a once-great city scourged by mutated monsters, marauders, and savage subhuman predators, the primitive N'Yark tribe ekes out a meager, fragile existence. But from among them rises a champion, gifted with prodigious strength—a warrior who can strike dead the most fearsome beast and stand alone against an army. Singlehandedly, he holds at bay the ravaging barbarian hordes of Jerz, thwarting the dark ambitions of beautiful, ruthless Queen Terra. At stake is the future of the world. Mighty Samson is the last, best hope of humankind.

For the first time in a quarter century, Mighty Samson returns to comics, reimagined by legendary writer Jim Shooter and illustrated by Patrick Olliffe (Untold Tales of Spider-Man, Spider-Girl, 52).

- This bonus-sized first issue includes the very first Mighty Samson story from 1964!

Jim Shooter (W), Bill Reinhold (A), Wes Dzioba (C), and Raymond Swanland (Cover)

On sale Dec 8	FC, 40 pages
$3.50	ONGOING

If you hunt and kill a man, it's murder, but what if it's a robot with advanced artificial intelligence? To Magnus, that's murder, too. The Metal Mob's Capo Andronicus runs a "safari" racket patronized by the idle rich, who pay to track sentient Q-ROBs deep in the lawless Goph Lands. Tonight's prey: Q-ROB Steelhammer. Even though Steelhammer is a blood-soaked human killer, Magnus cannot allow him to be hunted like an animal. Interfering with the hunt makes Magnus prey as well . . . dangerous game, indeed. Magnus confronts the boss of all bosses, Timur, in a battle for the ages!

THE ART OF CAMILLA D'ERRICO

Camilla d'Errico (W/A)

On sale Feb 23	FC, 112 pages
$22.99	HC, 8½" x 11"

One of the brightest rising stars of pop surrealism returns to Dark Horse!

Camilla d'Errico is an artistic dynamo—a highly accomplished painter and comic-book artist as well as a clothing, product, and custom-toy designer. Her handiwork captivates admirers around the world, and some of her best-known creations are these, her studies of beautiful women and their animal companions. Playful and flamboyant, exotic and enigmatic, the women who inhabit these striking paintings embody a fascinating array of contradictions—a circus of color and impossibility—where nothing is quite as it seems.

Perfect for fans of pop art, fine art, manga, and anime, this deluxe hardcover is the largest collection of Camilla's work to date!

- The largest and most comprehensive book of Camilla's art ever published!
- Camilla's art has appeared in Hi-Fructose, Kid Robot, Juxtapoz, and in galleries around the world!

Dark Horse Deluxe Presents
Archie
CLASSIC COMIC CHARACTER SERIES
#3
Betty
BETTY

CLASSIC ARCHIE CHARACTER #3:

BETTY

- On sale Mar 23
- Limited to 950 numbered pieces
- Packaged in its own tin box, with a pin-back button and character booklet
- $49.95

Archie first appeared in Pep Comics #22 in 1941, followed closely by his own comic-book series. The year 2011 marks the seventieth anniversary of Archie, and with Dark Horse poised to begin releasing the Archie Archives, we are proud to give the Archie family our signature Syroco-style treatment.

The third statuette in our series of five is Betty Cooper. Blond hair, blue eyes, very sweet, pretty, and earnest, Betty is always ready to have fun, especially when Archie is involved!

COUSIN EERIE

STATUE

- On sale May 25
- 12.5" tall
- Limited edition, packaged in full-color deluxe packaging with a certificate of authenticity, hand numbered on base
- $149.99

We are shambling forward from our musty crypt with a fabulous companion piece to the Uncle Creepy statue—none other than his good pal Cousin Eerie. Is he a handsome guy or what?

Crafted by master sculptor Tony Cipriano, who coincidentally is often mistaken for Cousin Eerie when he makes convention appearances, this sinister-but-engaging statue is a genuine labor of love.

Be warned! No detail was suppressed. The statue captures Cousin Eerie warts and all . . .

NOCHE ROJA HC

Written by SIMON OLIVER
Art by JASON LATOUR
Cover by LEE BERMEJO

In the tradition of Chinatown and L.A. Confidential, writer Simon Oliver explores a hidden world of corruption where money, sex, politics and crime all add up to the same thing.

In the desert just south of the border, young women are turning up murdered. No suspects. No clues. And authorities seem uninterested in uncovering any. When ex-private eye Jack Cohen is hired to find one missing girl, he is drawn back into the shadow world between North and South. And there, he must face the terrible tragedy in his past that he's been running from all these years. Featuring the gritty, stylized artwork of Jason Latour, NOCHE ROJA is a gripping noir tale of how the insatiable craving for cheap consumer goods leads to the ultimate cheapening of life itself.

MOST OF THE FACTORY GIRLS, THE MAQUILADORAS, COME STRAIGHT FROM THE COUNTRY. BUT THERE'S NOT MUCH WORK FOR THE MEN, SO THE WOMEN BECOME THE BREADWINNERS.
THERE'S A LOT OF RESENTMENT TOWARDS THESE WOMEN. RAPE, VIOLENT ASSAULT. WE'RE TALKING SOMETHING LIKE 300 MURDERS OVER THE LAST TWO YEARS.
BUT THIS CASE IS SOMETHING DIFFERENT.
OVER THE PAST 18 MONTHS, THE MUTILATED BODIES OF SIX FACTORY GIRLS HAVE TURNED UP IN THE WASTE-LAND ALONG THE EDGE OF TOWN.
AND THOSE ARE JUST THE ONES WE'RE AWARE OF.
I'VE PUT TOGETHER A FILE ON THE VICTIMS.
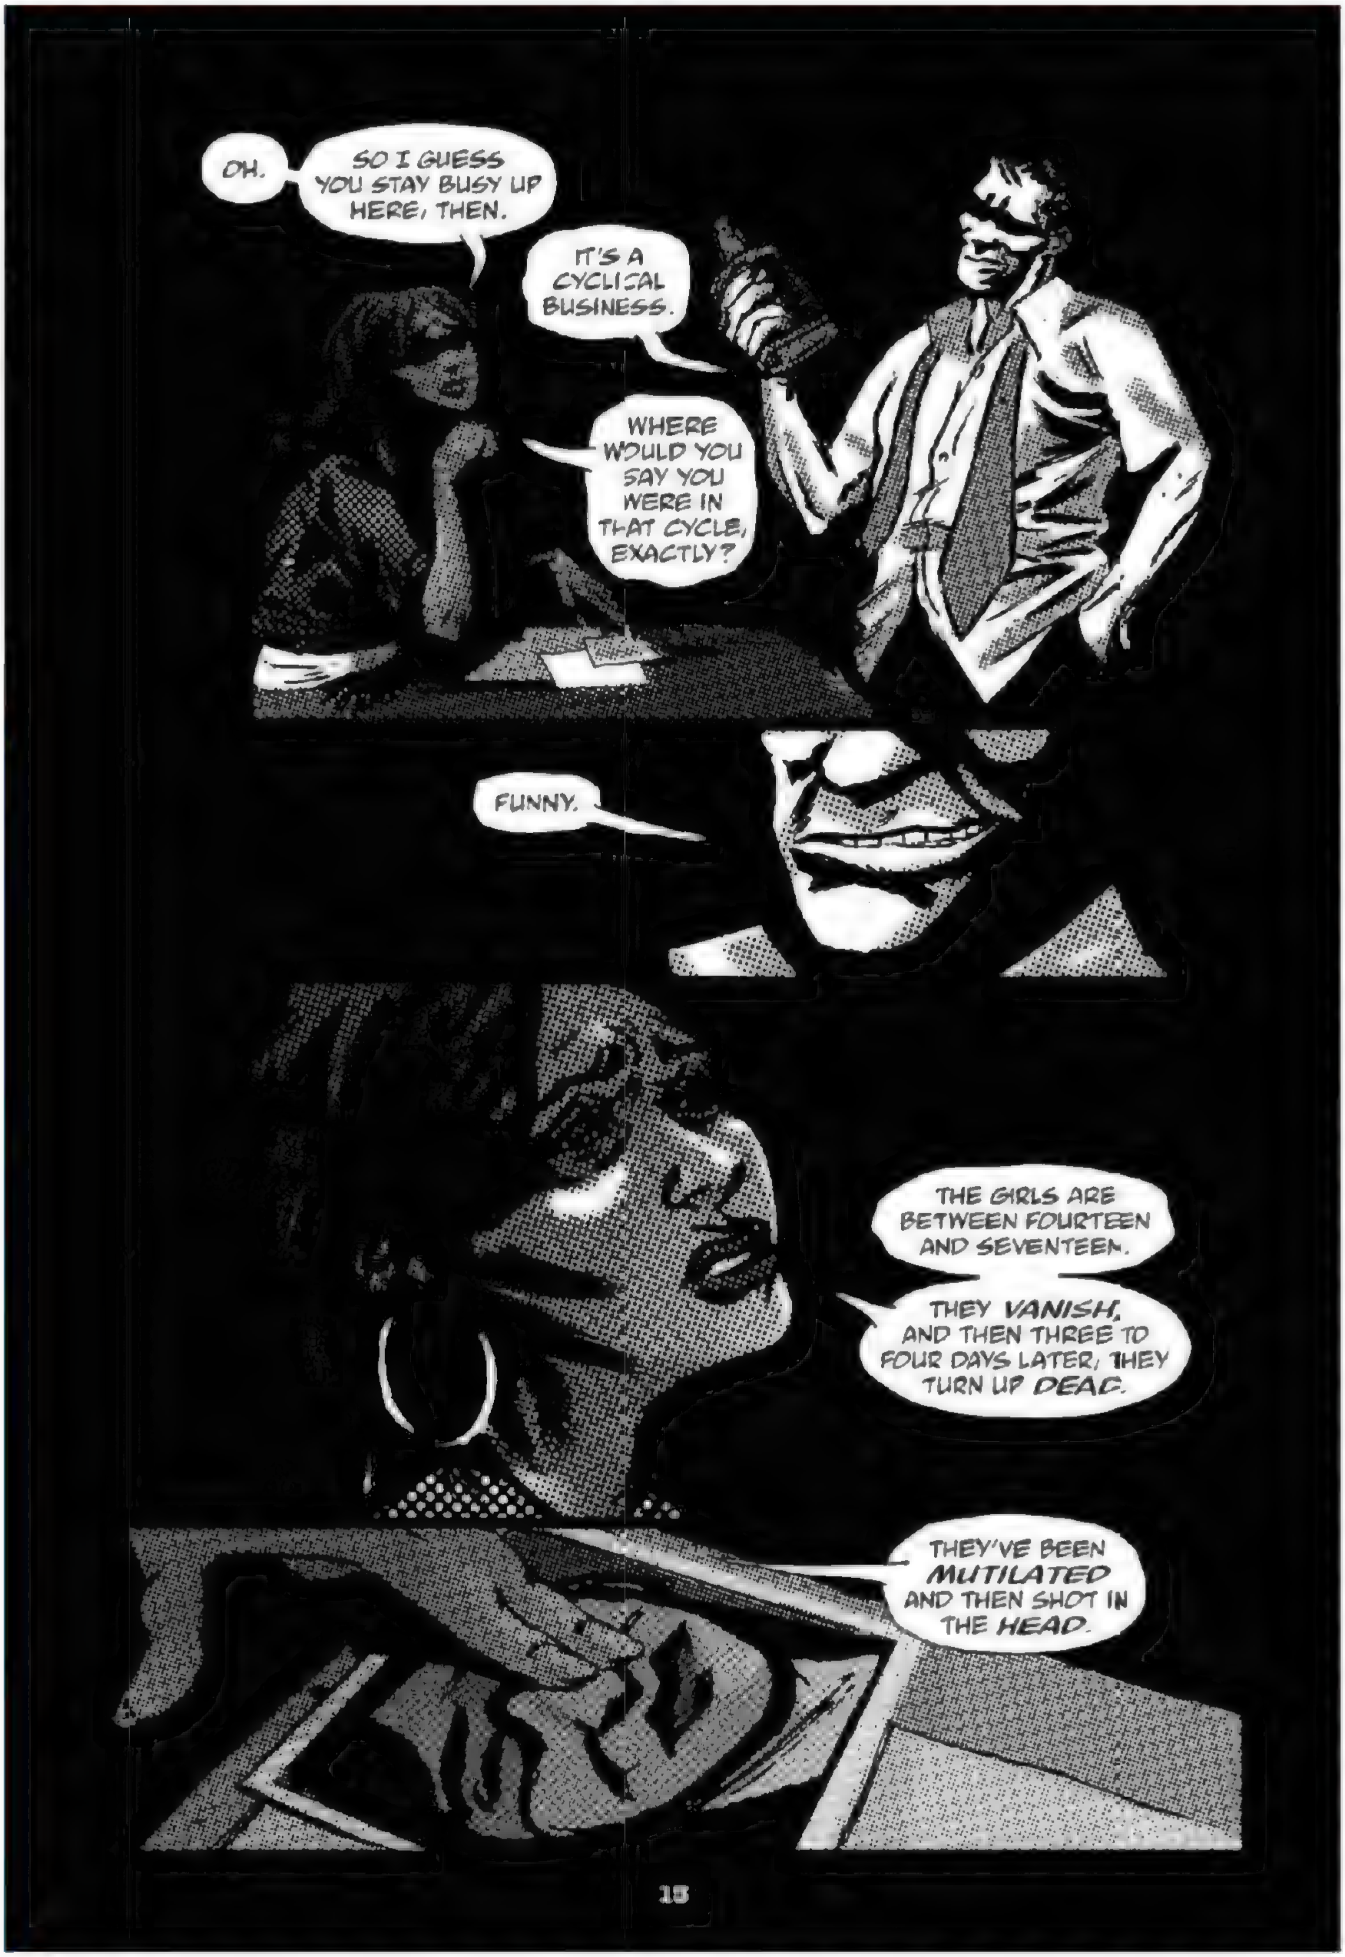
LOOK, MISS FLORES, BEFORE WE GO ANY FURTHER YOU SHOULD KNOW, I DON'T TAKE ANY JOBS SOUTH OF THE BORDER.
12



OH.
SO I GUESS YOU STAY BUSY UP HERE, THEN.
IT'S A CYCLICAL BUSINESS.
WHERE WOULD YOU SAY YOU WERE IN THAT CYCLE, EXACTLY?
FUNNY.
THE GIRLS ARE BETWEEN FOURTEEN AND SEVENTEEN.
THEY VANISH, AND THEN THREE TO FOUR DAYS LATER, THEY TURN UP DEAD.
THEY'VE BEEN MUTILATED AND THEN SHOT IN THE HEAD.

AME-COMI HEROINE SERIES: RAVEN PVC FIGURE

SCULPTED BY SAM GREENWELL

OH MY GOTH!

Sweeping shadows in black and midnight blue, post-punk pretty Raven keeps her emotions in check so the dark magic of her heritage doesn't devour her whole.

Caped in swirling dark waves, this gloomcookie's cloak of night locks in screaming lost souls, bats and beasts and terrors with teeth – including monster dad, the demon Trigon.

Packaged in a 4-color window box with J-hook, this non-articulated PVC statue stands approximately 9" high and includes a display base.

WONDER WOMAN #600 STATUE

BASED ON THE ART OF DON KRAMER
SCULPTED BY JACK MATHEWS

Paradise lost ...

Concrete jungle found.

The gods of Olympus abandoned the Amazons, leaving Paradise Island to its destruction. As Amazons were slaughtered, Queen Hippolyta ordered her daughter smuggled away, as retreating warriors were scattered to the four corners of the Earth.

And now ...

In a bolt of lightning and a rumble of thunder, Wonder Woman is back in black ... and red, and blue. Diana rules over the rock 'n' rubble, ready to roll and take on those who still seek to destroy the refugee Amazons.

In biker boots and bracelets, the Amazon Princess screams dark and dangerous. Sleek and streamlined, Diana's new costume oozes badittude and ready-for-fighting functionality. Inner-city smart and street-fighter savvy, this urban Amazon is heavy on metal and tough in leather.

With a new costume designed by Jim Lee, this statue is inspired by the variant cover of WONDER WOMAN #600. The statue is hand-painted, cold-cast in porcelain, measures approximately 9.75" high x 4.75" wide x 3.75" deep, and is packaged in a 4-color box.

Limited Edition.

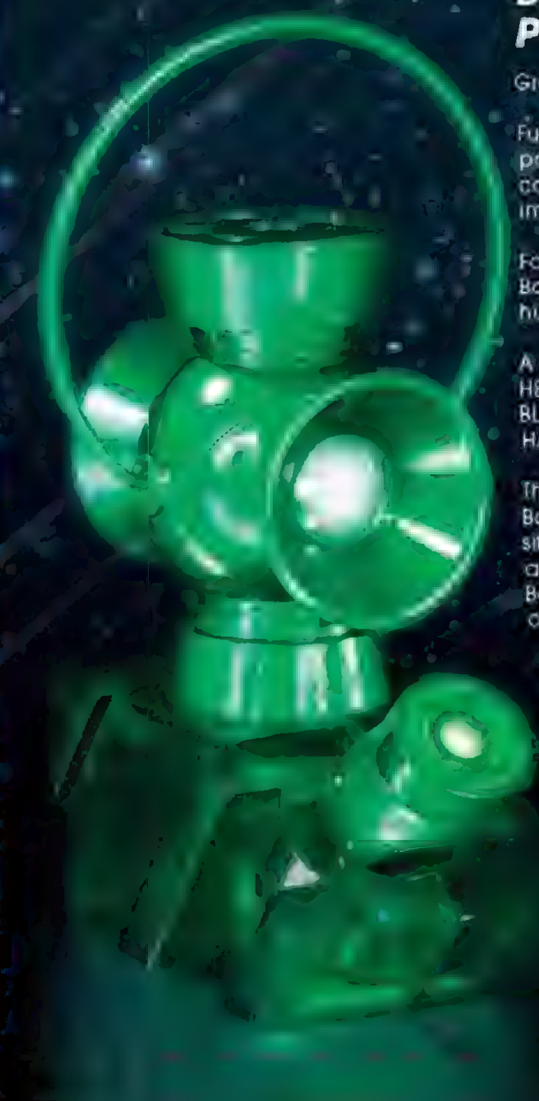
BLACKEST NIGHT: GREEN LANTERN 1:4 SCALE POWER BATTERY AND RING PROP REPLICA SET



Grabbed from the pages of BLACKEST NIGHT!

Fueled by willpower, the Green Lantern ring of power is purported to be the most powerful weapon in the Universe. There is no limit to what types of solid green light constructs it can produce – limited only by the strength of the ring-wearer's will and imagination. Beware the power!

For nine consecutive months in 2011, DC Direct releases a 1:4 scale light-up Power Battery and light-up Ring Prop Replica Set featuring a color from the spectrum of the hugely popular DC Comics' epic BLACKEST NIGHT.

A great companion piece to the HEROES OF THE DC UNIVERSE: BLACKEST NIGHT GREEN LANTERN HAL JORDAN BUST!

The Green Lantern 1:4 scale Power Battery and the Green Power Ring sit in a translucent green display and are removable from the stand. Both light up, featuring manual on/off switches.

The Power Battery measures approximately 2.875" high (minus handle) x 1.75" wide x 2.375" deep and is made of PVC/ABS. The Power Ring fits most sizes and lights up when worn. The translucent green acrylic display measures approximately 1.5" high x 2" wide x 3.25" deep.

The set is packaged on a 4-color blister.

HARLEY QUINN 1:4 SCALE MUSEUM QUALITY STATUE

SCULPTED BY JONATHAN MATTHEWS

Bud and Lou ... and Harley, [illegible]

Madly in love with her spotted [illegible], Harley Quinn takes her babies out for a walk: chain leash in one hand, pop gun in the other. Out for a stroll, they're laughing all the way ... to the bank.

Little Lou and Baby Bud each hold a piece of what Harley holds near and dear, but with a slice of fear: a stick of dynamite from her Puddin', The Joker, and a ripped and torn [illegible] from the costume of a certain Gotham City hero.

This classic rendition of the Queen of Crime is the latest addition to DC Direct's exclusive 1:4 scale museum quality statue series. Harley Quinn's costume is exquisitely tailored and detailed while various mixed media elements give the museum quality statue texture and visual interest.

The HARLEY QUINN 1:4 SCALE MUSEUM QUALITY STATUE includes hand-painted resin parts, measures approximately 16.5" high x 10" wide x 14" deep, and is packaged in a 4-color box.

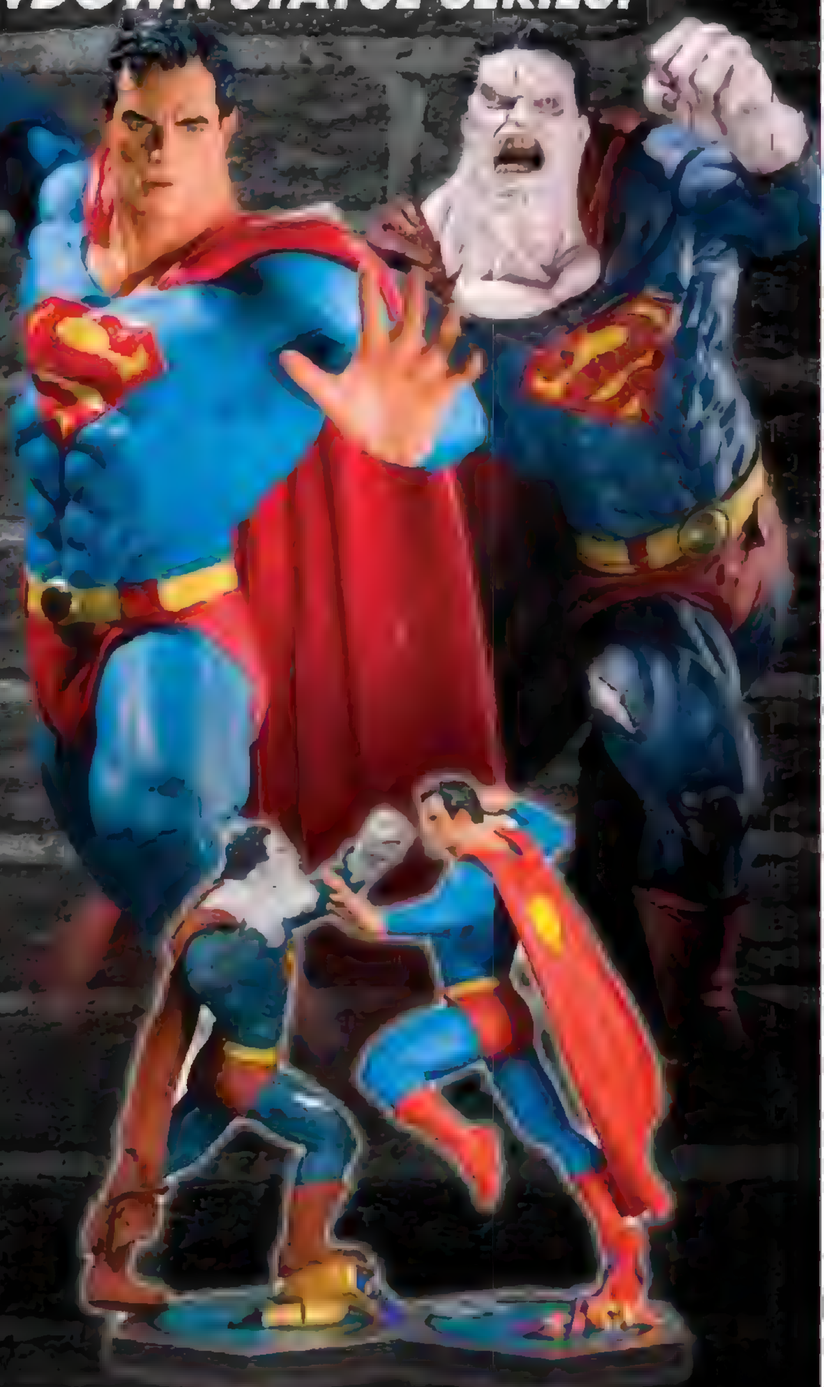
ULTIMATE SHOWDOWN



ULTIMATE SHOWDOWN: SUPERMAN VS. BIZARRO STATUE SET

DESIGNED & SCULPTED BY TIM BRUCKNER

The Ultimate Showdown series is DC Direct's unique, new, interactive concept for high-quality collectible statues featuring the world's greatest heroes and villains squaring off in deadly combat.

ROUND TWO!

Superman battles his imperfect duplicate, the backwards Bizarro.

Each character is displayed on a specially designed stand-alone base intended to "interact" with the other statues in the series and to be displayed in a myriad of ways. The statues can pivot independently on their bases and rotate their heads to customize and direct the action. Collect the other statue sets in the series! Mix and match them to create your own showdown or combine them all in one ultimate battle scene.

These hand-painted, cold-cast porcelain statues measure approximately:
Superman: 8.5" high x 5" wide x 5" deep
Bizarro: 7.75" high x 5" wide x 5" deep
Each set is packaged together in a 4-color box.

Limited Edition.

In the midst of the darkest days of World War II, Sector Seven's greatest fear has come true–the Nazis have captured a TRANSFORMER! The group's seven deadliest soldiers–a rag-tag group of screw-ups and cast-offs in any other context–go on what's surely a suicide mission into the heart of Nazi Germany!

TRANSFORMERS #14

Two AUTOBOTS felled in the past two issues and the punishment is only beginning! A shocking revelation and an unexpected attack begins the "REVENGE OF THE DECEPTICONS," the storyline that leaves a lot more AUTOBOTS on the operating table, and their entire future on Earth in question–and also features the return of superstar artist DON FIGUEROA!

Just outside of Tokyo lies Aokigahara, a vast forest and one of the most beautiful wilderness areas in Japan... which is also the most famous suicide spot in the entire world. Legend has it that the spirits of those many suicides are still roaming—haunting deep in those ancient woods. This series from the creators of the acclaimed The Veil examines the lives of Alan, an average worker from Tokyo and his rather unhealthy relationship with Masami, and Ryoko, a forest ranger who recovers the suicide victim's bodies from the woods. We discover that behind Ryoko's unconcerned surface lies a secret, and these three lives will be forever changed by the darkness waiting for them in the Suicide Forest.

The complete newspaper strip from The Guardian, drawn by RIAN HUGHES (YESTERDAY'S TOMORROWS, Dan Dare, Raymond Chandler's "Goldfish," logo and graphic design for DC, Marvel)

Celebrated designer and illustrator RIAN HUGHES first explored the possibilities of Adobe Illustrator's vector drawing tools in this stylish strip, forging a modern design-savvy approach that still tips the hat to classic UPA cartoons and the angular work of Gene Dietch. Bold, graphic and expressive, this collection brings together every strip for the very first time, including some unpublished rarities, in a neat hardback designed by Hughes in a pocket-sized format.

"Try a death tango in the upper levels of the stratosphere with smoky Cyrillic logos wrapped around your fuselage and raw Letraset moire crackling away in the rearview and then maybe you'll earn my respect the way Rian Hughes earned my respect long ago."

A gigantic treasure trove of new and classic Jingle Belle stories!

When Jing again breaks her parents rules, she is forced to spend Christmas Eve GROUNDED. But when Santa is also caught in a lie, he has to share the same punishment! Neither father nor daughter can leave the North Pole until they apologize, and with the contentious Kringles not speaking to each other, Christmas is doomed! In SLAYBELLE, Jing teams up with Halloween witch Polly Green to create a new holiday horror movie. Their film features a psycho St. Nick's helper (played by Jing) who offs mall Santas in gleefully gruesome ways. "It's a Wonderful Life?" Not by a long shot!

The collection also features new and never before seen short stories, pin-ups and one-page strips staring Polly, Super Rica and Rashy, Ida Red, and other characters from the extended Jingle Belle universe. As a special bonus, it reprints the popular book-length story "Jingle Belle: Santa Claus VS Frankenstein!"

KAZU KIBUISHI

PREVIEWS: How would you describe Amulet to a young reader to get them excited about it?

Kazu Kibuishi: Amulet is an action-adventure series about a family holding themselves together in a harsh fantasy world. They face death and danger at nearly every turn, and they are aided by a group of robots and a powerful magical amulet in their quest to keep a powerful villain called The Elf King from crossing over and destroying our world.

P: What do you think is the most essential building block in crafting a story geared toward young readers? And how have you employed it in one of your more recent projects?

Kazu: The most important thing has been to remember what it was like to be their age and to step into their shoes, rather than talk down to them. Kids are often really intelligent, but they aren't always treated that way since they're still working to form their own view of the world. If a writer is cognizant of the fact that the readers are still busy developing a world view, then it becomes easier to understand what building blocks to provide them with. One of the things I recognized while I traveled across the country speaking to kids is that they really enjoy the bigger, grander scale ideas. For so many years, I have spent so much effort trying to convince the readers that my fantasies are worth reading by introducing a lot of subtlety in the storytelling. However, I began seeing that the kids were already convinced that the fantasy was believable. They just wanted to see me ramp up the scale of the ideas as much as I could. So I have been doing my best to make sure each book has a lot of really big ideas, including the implications of a massive world and pushing the characters with greater internal conflict. The fantasy has grown more grandiose, but so has the drama between characters. It's been kind of a new thing for me, to crank up the volume so high, but it's been a lot of fun, and I'm glad the readers are responding positively.

P: What was your favorite comic as a kid? And how does it continue to influence you today?

Kazu: To be honest, Garfield was my favorite comic when I was a kid. It was the book my friends and I clamored for at the school book fairs. If I couldn't get a copy of the newest Garfield at the fair, I would get really bummed, settling for some other comics or the Guinness Book of World Records. Garfield has two direct influences on Amulet. First, it was through watching a short TV program featuring Jim Davis showing the audience how he draws a cartoon that I learned how it was done. Secondly, one of my biggest goals in creating Amulet was to make a book that kids would go nuts for at the Scholastic Book Fairs. I wanted to give them something to look forward to the way I did with every Garfield book.

P: What kids books do you recommend?

Kazu: Jeff Smith's BONE series is, of course, the best example. For more current titles, however, I would have to point out Raina Telgemeier's Smile (Scholastic/Graphix), probably the best representation of life as a pre-teen kid, dealing with all the awkwardness of transitioning to a more adult life.

RAINA TELGEMEIER

PREVIEWS : How would you describe Smile to a young reader to get them excited about it?

Raina Telgemeier: Smile is about stuff most kids are familiar with: growing pains, making friends, surviving school . . . and dentistry! Everyone is scared of going to the dentist, and I had an especially severe orthodontic experience resulting from knocking out my two front teeth. The reconstructive surgery continued all through my middle school years — just when looks were becoming more important than ever. The book uses expressive, cartoony storytelling to illustrate the ups and downs of adolescence in a way that hopefully all kids can relate to and laugh at.

P: What do you think is the most essential building block in crafting a story geared toward young readers? And how have you employed it in one of your more recent projects?

Raina: I think the key is relate-ability. Whether you're writing high fantasy or gritty autobiography, a story with central characters that kids can relate to will draw them in and keep them reading. I'm also a big believer in comedy! I tried to infuse humor into tons of the situations in Smile . . . because some of the subject matter is pain, and discomfort, and awkwardness, which can be hard to read about if they're done in a straightforward fashion. But make them funny, and they don't seem so bad after all!

P: What was your favorite comic as a kid? And how does it continue to influence you today?

Raina: I loved reading comic strips, and my Calvin and Hobbes collections were among my most well-read and dog-eared books. Calvin and Hobbes taught me a lot about the beauty of showing rather than telling. Bill Watterson could stage physical humor so perfectly, and nobody is better at drawing kids (and stuffed tigers) running around, jumping, climbing trees, or playing games. As a result, I try to keep my characters moving, expressing themselves, and acting in ways that are fun for the reader to look at.

P: What kids books do you recommend?

Raina: One of my very favorite series right now is Yotsuba&! by Kiyohiko Azuma, also about an Earth girl... but a very odd Earth girl. She's five-years-old and seems to be constantly discovering the world around her for the first time. The motto of the series is "Enjoy Everything," and I enjoy everything about it!

YOTSUBA&! Volume 1 GN (JUL091150 / Yen Press)

Finally, I'm enjoying a new series called Nola's World, by the creative team of MiniKim, Mariolle, and Pop, recently translated from the French by Graphic Universe. This series is gorgeous — a hybrid of Japanese and European styles, lush candy-colored environments, and rubbery character designs.

AARON RENIER

The Unsinkable Walker Bean GN (MAY101031 / :01 First Second Books)

PREVIEWS How would you describe The Unsinkable Walker Bean to a young reader to get them excited about it?

Aaron Renier: It's a story about a boy who must save his grandfather from the torments of a cursed skull, and to do so must return it to a pair of giant sea witches. They are as big as a tall ship, have glowing eyes, and gargantuan lobster bodies. The only thing Walker has to save the day is his own creativity, and the help of his new friends. Plus there is a great dog named Perrogi along on the trip... if you like dogs, you'll probably love her.

P:* What got you excited about Walker Bean? Is there anything you can share about his upcoming adventures?

Aaron: What got me the most excited about Walker Bean was a conversation I was having with my dear friend Alec [illegible], who eventually became the book's colorist. We were walking to go draw in the Rose Reading Room at the Main Branch Library in Manhattan, and I was trying to figure out ways to not set myself specifically in any real time period for this book... for the longest time I wanted Walker to be an amateur radio buff. But Alec thought this was a bad idea. I wanted Walker to be able to communicate with others in distant places. I thought [illegible] if he could communicate with the ol' message in a bottle... efficiently, but of course that opened a whole new can of worms. How would the message [illegible] the letter was written for? How would [illegible] there. After trying to think of the mechanics with Alec, we somehow came to an agreement it just does; it doesn't need to ever be explained. That day made me very excited about the possibilities of Walker Bean.

Book two takes place almost entirely on the Mango Islands. It's basically about the history of that place, and what happened to its people. We'll learn a great deal about the metal orichalcum, and sadly say goodbye to one of my favorite characters from Book One. But there will be new friendships and, of course, new inventions!

P:* What do you think is the most essential building block in crafting a story geared toward young readers? And how have you employed it in one of your more recent projects?

Aaron: I just try to have fun, and hope that comes through in the final book. One thing I can say is that I try to keep myself entertained day-to-day... so as I'm working I think about what I get to draw the next day, and if it's something exciting, that gets me to the next page faster, and I can draw what is in my head. As I work, I hope what makes a page exciting for me to write and draw, makes it exciting to read for exactly the same reason. I became interested in reading and drawing in middle school. I quickly grew tastes in what [illegible] comics I was interested in, and it's those interests now that still drive my work.

P:* What was your favorite comic as a kid? And how does it continue to influence you today?

Aaron: Hands down my favorite comic was — and is — Calvin and Hobbes. I almost feel like at this point answering "Calvin and Hobbes" is a no-brain answer! Mr. Watterson had an influence that was more enormous than he could have ever imagined. It was everything. Social satire, nonsense galore, plus the secret life of Calvin "Mitty." It was just like the only rule of Calvinball: you can't play the same way twice. It was ever changing and never ever dull. I loved Hobbes the tiger like a member of my own family. They changed the way I saw the world. Having no comic shops where I grew up in Green Bay I was left to the spinner rack at the drug store, and the newspaper that was delivered to my house. Calvin and Hobbes was always the first thing I read every day after school.

My hope is to just perpetuate interest in comics in children, and hope someday a young person who read my work will also become a cartoonist. That would be fantastic. Thank you, Mr. Watterson!

P:* What kids books do you recommend?

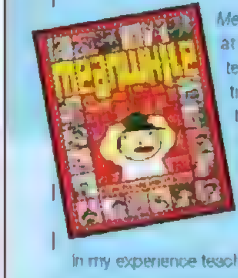
Aaron: The Secret Science Alliance by Eleanor Davis is my current favorite comic for kids. It is just a brilliant book that has a tightly woven plot, flights of logic based on scientific fact, and it's beautifully drawn down to the tiniest detail. Eleanor Davis is crazy-good!
Secret Science Alliance GN (SEP090864 / Bloomsbury)



Meanwhile... by Jason Shiga is the book that would have been at my bedside from grade school up until now, if only it would've been written back then (or if it could possibly be transported back in time in the book's own functioning time machine.) I grew up reading choose your own adventure books, but none of them were like this. Each page is a maze of decisions to be made by the reader. [illegible] thing the pages are on good thick paper... because never in history will one book's pages [illegible] such a fun read. And I still haven't gotten all the way to the end.
Meanwhile... Pick Any Path—3,856 Story Possibilities GN (NOV09057[illegible] / Abrams)

In my experience teaching comics to children, I've found that it's almost as easy as putting a pencil in their hand and letting them go. But sometimes it's the tiniest thing each student needs to learn to not only make their comics more readable, but makes it more fun for them to draw. Adventures in Cartooning, by James Sturm, Alexis Frederick-Frost, and Andrew Arnold, is a great book for any kid who likes to draw.

SCOTT CHANTLER

Three Thieves Volume 1: Tower of Treasure

(Kids Can Press / See Page 289 of this issue to Order!)

PREVIEWS How would you describe Tower of Treasure to a young reader to get them excited about it?

Scott Chantler: Tower of Treasure was created to take a lot of the darkness and seriousness out of fantasy fiction. It's pure adventure: full of action, humor, colorful characters, chases, escapes — only the fun stuff.

P:* What do you think is the most essential building block in crafting a story geared toward young readers? And how have you employed it in one of your more recent projects?

Scott: I don't think about writing in those terms at all. When it's just me and the blank computer screen, the only audience I'm thinking about or trying to please is me. In the case of Tower of Treasure, I simply asked myself "What would have appealed to me as a ten-year-old?" Hopefully those same things will appeal to actual [illegible]

P:* What was your favorite comic as a kid? And how does it continue to influence you today?

Scott: When I was really young it was Batman, for sure. By the time I was 11 or 12, though, it was more the fantasy comics that were popular in the early [illegible] Wexford. There was a [illegible] fun in those books that [illegible] to rediscover when I began working on Tower of Treasure.

P:* What kids books do you recommend?

Kean Soo's Jellaby in the City is artful, fun, and totally nails the feeling of being a kid — both the positive and the negative.
Jellaby Volume 2: Jellaby In The City GN (JAN094264 / Harper Collins)

I think that the best books for young readers are the ones that don't pander to kids [illegible] that can be enjoyed by all ages. BONE by Jeff Smith is the best example of that.

MAGUS #1

12- Gauge Comics

What if magic were real? Or, at least, what if it were real until thousands of years ago, and the world was forced to forget that magic and all its power was a very real part of life and not just the fantasies of fiction.

Magus is the story of our world on the day magic is unlocked and all of humanity once again discovers the gift of magic. Society is turned upside down as the world adjusts to this amazing new discovery and governments all across the globe attempt to contain the chaos. Some will use their new gift for good while others will use it for evil, but for everyone on the planet, life will never be the same.

Jon Price, David Norton, and Rebekah Isaacs find the very human story at the heart of Magus by focusing not on the big picture but on the lives of the individuals — like best friends Ben and Darius — faced with a new and terrifying world. Magus is a truly modern and undeniably unique fantasy, one that will leave you breathless — and yearning for magic of your own.

THERE's A NEW LADY IN TOWN!

JOE BENITEZ
PETER STEIGERWALD

From the imaginative mind of Joe Benitez with colors by the incomparable Peter Steigerwald, comes this all-new supernatural action-adventure series!

The tabloids dubbed her "LADY MECHANIKA", the sole survivor of a psychotic serial killer's three-year rampage through London. Found locked in an abandoned laboratory amidst countless corpses and body parts, with her own limbs amputated and replaced with mechanical components, her life began anew. With no memory of her captivity or her former life, LADY MECHANIKA eventually built a new life for herself as a private detective, using her unique abilities to solve cases the police couldn't or wouldn't handle. But, she has never stopped searching for answers...

Now, brought into a case unlike any before, LADY MECHANIKA will have to rely on her advantage in all things occult and paranormal in order to solve the case and possibly unlock the secrets to her past!

LADY MECHANIKA #1 is in stores DECEMBER 1st, 2010!

Alan Moore's A SMALL KILLING
Graphic Novel (new printing)

Retail Price: $16.95
Cover: Oscar Zarate
Writer: Alan Moore
Artist: Oscar Zarate
Readership: All Ages
Format: FC, 104pp, Magazine 8x10, square bound

PRODUCT DESCRIPTION. Alan Moore's Eisner Award winning graphic novel, A Small Killing, gets a new printing this month to continue its assured spot on collectors' shelves, and to introduce new readers to what Moore himself has called "one of the best pieces of comic book art that I have ever been involved in." This beautiful oversized volume is illustrated in lush, full color paintings by artist Oscar Zarate, and the art and lettering have been completely re-mastered to insure this essential work of art and piece of graphic novel history lasts through future generations. A Small Killing is the story of Timothy Hole, a successful adman who has just been handed the biggest assignment of his life, marketing a major cola in Russia. But his smooth life begins to unravel as he is stalked by a demonic child that makes him question not just who he is, but how he really effects those around him. It is about the little murders that we all have to make each day just to get by. The trace assassinations of tiny things. Really, how much damage can be done by a small killing? Includes a commentary article by both Alan Moore and the artist Oscar Zarate.

NIGHT OF THE LIVING DEAD #3

Writer: Mike Wolfer and John Russo
Regular Cover: Paul Duffield - Art: Tomas Aira
Format: Full Color, 32 pages #3 of 5, MR

Regular cover retail price: $3.99 US

PRODUCT DESCRIPTION: Fans have demanded it, the most unprecedented and horrifying night in American history continues as the next chapter of NIGHT OF THE LIVING DEAD is revealed at last! Hundreds of anti-war protestors have gathered at the National Mall in Washington, D.C. in the summer of 1968. Behind them, a nervous National Guard stands at the ready, to maintain order should rioting erupt. And behind them, in the darkness, slithering out of the shadows with an insatiable hunger for human flesh, an army of the living dead is about to attack! As consciences, philosophies and emotions collide, the stories of several participants dove-tail into a single tale of survival against a foe much greater than anything they had previously fought against or imagined possible. But as the specter of the undead creeps increasingly closer to the White House, a simple miscalculation will spark a firestorm of murder, transforming an already tenuous situation into the most horrific bloodbath ever seen on American soil! Written by the smash duo of Mike Wolfer and John Russo, the original film co-writer, this blood-drenched five-issue series features new artist Tomas Aira. Don't miss all the terrifying covers, Paul (Freakangels) Duffield provides the Regular edition, Raulo (Cpt Swing) Caceres melts eyeballs with the Wraparound cover, and twisted Matt Martin splatters the Gore covers all over the page. FC,32pp,#9/10, MR

Reg. cover retail: $3.99

About: The ten-issue vampire epic on the bayou from the writer of the A Song of Ice and Fire novels rushes to its conclusion in this penultimate issue! From the New York Times Best-selling author, George R. R. Martin, comes a tale of vampire clans, death and debauchery, legendary blood masters, and even a few epic steamboat races on the muddy Mississippi. This is Martin's FEVRE DREAM, an antebellum story of power, loss, and the fever of bloodlust. Abner Marsh set out to hunt down the Fevre Dream, but it was Damon Julian who captured Marsh! Now, with his only ally York trapped under the control of the evil blood-master Julian, will Abner be able to escape from Sour Billy before dark? Each issue of this stunning full-color epic is illustrated by Rafa Lopez, an artist whose skilled line captures every moonlit drop of blood in delicious detail. Adapted by the Hugo-nominated author Daniel Abraham, this version of FEVRE DREAM stays faithful to Martin's original dark vision, while bringing the torture and joy of his vampires to almost-human life. This haunting series is available with Regular and Wraparound painted covers by Felipe Massafera and a very limited Nightmare retailer incentive.

About: Warren Ellis and Jacen Burrows, the creative team of the critically acclaimed Dark Blue and Scars, bring to life this sick decent into the foulest reaches of the world we live in. A world of beauty in the eyes of many, but to bleeding-edge writer Warren Ellis, a world filled with evil, sin, decay and filth. A Bad World indeed. Told in a unique format of text and illustrations, Ellis explores the far edges of humanity, the people who are hanging to reality by the thinnest of threads, and those that are simply off their rockers. This collection of all three issues also features a gallery of the stunning artwork of Jacen Burrows and a new introduction by Warren Ellis.

About: Garth Ennis and Mike Wolfer give new glory to the Old West! Colonel Joseph Dunn is a man of honor, integrity, and one of the last bastions of the oldguard. Joe has lived his life both as a soldier and a lone gun, but above all, someone that could be trusted to defend the common man with everything in him -and, if need be, the hot steel of death. There are glorious new sights on the horizon, but a few things have changed too much, and the bad isn't to Dunn's liking. It's up to one man to make things right - a man that can stomach the task of bodies piling up, while the streets run red with glorious blood.

Writer: Garth Ennis
A: Jacen Burrows
C: Jacen Burrows
FC, 144pp, TPB, MR

About: Danny Wormwood is having all the troubles of modern man, his TV shows have issues, he cheats on his wife, and his rabbit talks back to him. But this poor sod also has to deal with the fact that his dad is Satan himself and Pope Jacko and the Catholic church are also raising Hell. Oh yeah, the Armageddon is about to start and Jesus is a right thicko, not much help there. Ennis drags the whole world into the gutter with his trademark razor-sharp dialogue, biting wit, and the stunning art of Jacen Burrows, all in full-color.

DECEMBER FEATURED ITEM

Regular Retail Price: $3.99

Cover: Garrie Gastonny
Writer: Brian Pulido and Mike Wolfer
Art: Marcelo Mueller
Readership: All-Ages
Format: Full Color, 32 pages, on-going monthly

PRODUCT DESCRIPTION: Lady Death is back in an all-new, on-going monthly series! The most popular femme fatale in comics returns with a vicious new tale that delivers for both new and old readers! Lady Death is no more, stripped of her supernatural abilities, memories and soul, banished from the Nether Realm and left for dead, utterly defeated and powerless. In her place, Hope's greatest foe has stolen her kingdom, her legacy and even her face, transforming the Realm into a nightmare world and rules it with an unparalleled, sadistic pleasure. But this is only the beginning! The most sprawling epic in Lady Death's history begins as Illadra, a simple thief in Medieval Spain, learns that her unnatural skills are tied to another life she has glimpsed in her darkest nightmares, one where she is Lady Death. Her world is about to be turned upside down when a demonic emissary and a battalion of zombie warriors thrusts her down a bloody path of self-discovery, and a quest to recover the true self that was ripped from her by the villainous Death Queen! Co-written by Mike (Gravel, Wolfskin) Wolfer and original creator Brian Pulido, this series promises to be the most powerful Lady Death tale ever! Amazing new talent Marcelo Mueller provides the luscious art and Digikore brings the dramatic colors wrapped in a stunning new cover by Garrie (Supergod) Gastonny! Also available with a Wraparound cover by Juan Jose Ryp and a special Art Deco Retailer Order Incentive by painter Michael Dipascale!

THE LOST CONTINENT

EDGAR RICE BURROUGHS' THE LOST CONTINENT GN
(W) Edgar Rice Burroughs, Anne Odell
(A) Ricardo Arreola
In the 22nd-century, the world has been divided into the western hemisphere and the forbidden lands of the eastern hemisphere. No one knows better than Jefferson Turck, a lieutenant in the Pan-American Navy, that entering the eastern hemisphere is against the law. However, during a terrible storm at sea, Turck is forced to take refuge in a land located within the forbidden zone. Turck is shocked by the unforgiving lands he finds himself in, and by the fearsome beasts that inhabit them. (C: 0-1-2)

THE LAND THAT TIME FORGOT

EDGAR RICE BURROUGHS' THE LAND THAT TIME FORGOT GN
(W) Edgar Rice Burroughs, Scott Alexander Young
(A) K.L. Jones
The Land that Time Forgot is the first book in the Caspak trilogy, written by Edgar Rice Burroughs. Bowen could never have imagined the adventures he'd be forced to embark upon when he arrived on the inhospitable coast of Caspak and set up camp there. He could never have fathomed having to cope in an alien landscape inhabited by dinosaurs, Neanderthals, aerial monsters, and an almost unearthly flora and fauna. (C: 0-1-2)

THE PEOPLE THAT TIME FORGOT

EDGAR RICE BURROUGHS' THE PEOPLE THAT TIME FORGOT GN
(W) Edgar Rice Burroughs, Steven Philip Jones
(A) K.L. Jones
The People that Time Forgot is the second book in the Caspak trilogy, written by Edgar Rice Burroughs. As far as Tom Billings was concerned, all he had to do was set sail for the South Pacific island of Caprona and find the last-known whereabouts of Bowen J. Tyler. However, arriving on the island with his own private army, Billings becomes separated from his companions after a machine gun fight with what appears to be a prehistoric creature. Billings experiences strange rituals, vicious creatures and ancient tribes, but true to his nature, he never gives up. (C: 0-1-2)

& FRANCESCO FRANCAVILLA (1-in-10)
"Black, White & Green" Retailer incentive cover by MATT WAGNER

The story continues to trace the formation of the Green Hornet and Kato's crusade against crime and the arsenal necessary to make that happen. Rusty Schmidt finds himself frustrated in trying to, at Britt's insistence, devise a non-lethal weapon that can still put the Hornet's enemies out of commission, an elusive trick to which Kato may hold the solution. Meanwhile, in the "present" day adventure, the Hornet and Kato step up the pressure on mob-boss Skid Caruso's operations. But, unbeknownst to them, Caruso has called in his own outside muscle—a merciless and sadistic enforcer known only as "The SCOURGE"!

As the new Kato recovers from a psychic assault, she readies herself for an all-out attack on Takeshi's forces. She's outnumbered, young and inexperienced, but her father, the original Kato, taught her well. Kato sets traps and prepares herself for the clash with a league of well-trained ninjas. This issue takes place in Century City and leads up to the thrilling finale of this arc, as well as directly into the events of Kevin Smith's Green Hornet series.

Based on the Paramount Pictures classic film, The Warriors chronicles one night in the lives of a New York City street gang and their harrowing journey for survival and redemption. Cyrus, the messianic leader of the city's largest gang, the Riffs, declares a truce and calls a summit in the Bronx with all the rival gangs in attendance. Cyrus's vision is to unify all the gangs into one super-organization, but during the meeting, Cyrus is assassinated, and the murder is pinned on a member of the Warriors. With no time to prove their innocence, the Warriors have no choice: they must run back to their home turf of Coney Island with an entire city of ruthless thugs swearing vengeance and out for blood.

HIDEYUKI KIKUCHI'S Vampire Hunter D 5

ADAPTED AND ILLUSTRATED BY SAIKO TAKAKI

Cover artwork not final.

In a world where even the smallest and most remote village is being terrorized by the monsters that stalk the night, there is a hamlet, prosperous and peaceful, where mortals and vampires have lived in peace for years. It is there that sleeping beauty, Sheavil Schmidt has slept, neither waking nor aging, for thirty years since first receiving the vampire's immortal kiss. The mysterious Vampire Hunter D is lured to the tranquil oasis by recurrent dreams of the beautiful, undying girl bathed in an eerie blue light and dancing in a ghostly chateau.

A SINGLE MATCH HC
(W/A) Oji Suzuki
In this collection of hauntingly elliptical short stories, Oji Suzuki explores memory, relationships and loss with a loose narrative style, filling each tale with a sense of unfulfilled longing. He plumbs the dissolute depths of human psychology, literally bathing his characters in expansive shadows that paradoxically reveal as much as they obscure. Though he touches on many of the same themes as his contemporaries in the field of post-war alternative manga, Suzuki's ever-shifting narrative approach and dashes of surrealist humor distinguish his work from his peers

MY MOMMY IS IN AMERICA AND SHE MET BUFFALO BILL HC
(W) Jean Regnaud (A) Emile Bravo
Jean relates his daily life and adventures with his sour-tempered teacher Madame Moinot, his busy dad, his nanny, his little brother Paul (with whom he always fights), and his spiteful neighbor Michele, telling them fanciful and amusing things that appear to make him a normal boy. But inside there is a great emptiness and a voice calling "Where is my mommy...?" as his only maternal contact is through a series of fanciful postcards read to him by the girl next door! (C: 0-0-2)

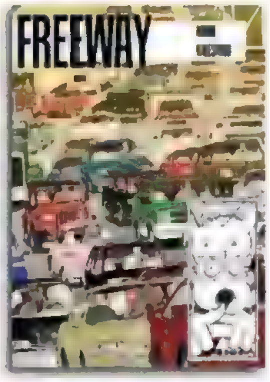
FREEWAY

by Mark Kalesniko
$28.99 / SC / 416 pgs / BW / 7 x 10

SPOTLIGHT ON

Alex is an animator and he's angry. Stuck in a traffic jam on his way to his job at "Mickey Walt" Studios, Alex rages, reminisces, fantasizes and hallucinates about his early days as a starry-eyed animator landing his dream job, through the increasingly depressing political battles and creative compromises. Loaded with insider information on two generations of animators, Freeway is another ambitious step forward for a major cartooning talent.

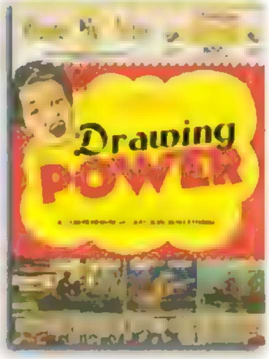


DRAWING POWER: A COMPENDIUM OF CARTOON ADVERTISING

Edited By Rick Marschall & Warren Bernard
$28.99 / SC / 128 pgs / PC / 9.5 x 13

SPOTLIGHT ON

A lively collection of mass market advertising from the 1890's to the recent past, starring both cartoonists and cartoon characters. Comics were born as a commercial medium and was nurtured by competition, commerce and advertising. This will be the first book-length examination of the nexus of commerce, art and cartoons. It will examine cartoonists as public personalities and their advertising efforts from the first heartbeat of the comic strip.



BLECKY Vol 4

By Johnny Ryan
$11.99 / SC / 104 pgs / BW / 6.5 x 8.5

The stupidest, ugliest, stubbliest girl in grade number two is back in this fourth and final collection of riotously hilarious, eye-poppingly offensive four-panel gagstrips. Co-starring the usual cast of Blecky's weirdo friends and enemies, plus jelly clones, slug nut aliens, talking belches, the beloved New Character Parade and oh so much more. Over 100 pages of ridiculous absurdity and scathing satire as only Johnny Ryan can deliver

THE HIDDEN

by Richard Sala
$19.99 / HC / 120 pgs / FC / 8 x 8

Eight people are stranded at a snowbound diner. Their phones can only pick up shards of conversation. The radio is filled with static-filled reports of some sort of global catastrophe. As the characters become increasingly unraveled, each tells of dreams, anecdotes and stories ranging from the bizarre to the horrific. Oh, and the radio reports that an inmate has escaped from a nearby hospital. The police warn that he is very, very dangerous....

POPEYE Vol 5

by E.C. Segar
$29.99 / HC/ 168 pgs / PC/ 10.5 x 14.75

The penultimate installment of this acclaimed reprinting of E.C. Segar's masterpiece begins with the tale of Popeye's reign over Spinachovia — a bleak island populated only by men and lacking all "femininity." This volume's star is Eugene the Jeep, a rare and magically-endowed creature and Segar makes a great addition to the cast in Poopdeck Pappy. This year-and-a-half's worth of full-color Sunday strips are as dazzlingly reproduced as ever!

TRICKSTER: NATIVE AMERICAN TALES, A GRAPHIC ANTHOLOGY GN

(E) Matt Dembicki

All cultures have tales of the trickster — a crafty creature or being who uses cunning to get food, steal precious possessions, or simply cause mischief. In Native American traditions, the trickster takes many forms, from coyote or rabbit to raccoon or raven. The first graphic anthology of Native American trickster tales, Trickster brings together Native American folklore and the world of comics. More than twenty tales are cleverly adapted into comic form, each written by a different Native American storyteller who worked closely with a selected illustrator. NOTE: This item may be available through other retail outlets before shipping to comic book specialty shops.

In 2008, the famed director Michel Gondry (Eternal Sunshine of the Spotless Mind) proposed to legendary cartoonist Julie-Doucet that they make a film together. Little did Gondry and Doucet know that the process itself would be the film, and they'd soon be starring in a "reality" comic and film of their own devising. My New New York Diary contains all of Doucet's drawings for the film, as well as the DVD containing the film itself. Certified Cool™

Check out this new, limited edition of B.B. WOLF & THE 3 LP'S packaged with a special Music CD of Blues songs, spear-headed by artist Rich Koslowski and recorded specifically to accompany the graphic novel. Set in the Mississippi Delta of the 1920s, B.B. WOLF & THE 3 LP'S is a classic story of racial injustice, murder, revenge, and music. A farmer and family man by day, blues musician by night, and a drinker of fine spirits at any hour, B.B.'s life seemed simple. But this fragile peace comes crashing down when the LPs decide to take his land by any means possible. When all is lost, B.B. lashes out, setting into motion acts of revenge that only a big bad wolf could unleash. Now you can read the book and listen to the music of the era as well. This special edition will be limited to actual orders.

"Top Shelf continues to impress with its growing roster of creators and swelling ranks of critical praise. Their efforts are terrifically packaged, wonderfully executed, and full of intellect and charm." —Troy Brownfield, Shotgun Reviews

WW3's latest issue invites readers to consider the "Food Chain" -- our place in it and our relationship and experiences with/within it, both literally and metaphorically. Big fish eat little fish; rich men eat organic; poor men eat McDonald's. Monoculture crops and industrial fertilizer eat the soil and $#!t out profits. Everybody eats ... but how do we stop from being eaten? This latest batch of new comics unearths some of the answers and asks the big questions about THE FOOD CHAIN. Featuring work by Peter Kuper, Seth Tobocman, Sabrina Jones, Jennifer Camper, Rebecca Migdal, Mac McGill, Sandy Jimenez, and many others.

THE THIN BLACK LINE: PERSPECTIVES ON VINCE COLLETTA SC
(W) Robert L. Bryant
Vince Colletta is perhaps the most prolific comic book inker ever, and certainly the most controversial. He jumped in at the last minute to rescue hundreds of comic books about to miss their printing deadline, often racing through the work of artists who fans say he should have worshiped. Join Stan Lee, Roy Thomas, Mark Evanier, and dozens of other comics pros as they recall the Vince Colletta they knew and worked with, and pull no punches in their praise and criticism of the most notorious inker in the history of the medium

LET ME IN: CROSSROADS #1

Dark Horse Comics

Horror movies are in my blood, especially this time of year. There is nothing quite like a spooky flick on the big screen or a classic fright-fest DVD marathon to help get you in the Halloween mood. And when it comes to all things creepy, some of the best horror movies have been vampire-centric. Now I like visceral vampire fare, sorry…no "twinkly" bloodsuckers for me, so when I heard about the upcoming big budget remake of Let the Right One In I was duly intrigued. If you haven't seen this Norwegian gem, make sure you do before Matt Reeves upcoming Let Me In premieres in theatres this month. The story tells us about an outcast boy's friendship with a 200 year old vampire stuck in the body of a 12 year old girl.

This month, the horror hounds at Dark Horse have put together what amounts to the essential behind-the-scenes look into the Let Me In world. Let Me In: Crossroads #1 tells the official prelude story of vampire Abby's past. When your only choice for survival amounts to the slaughter of innocents and you have eternity of the same cycle to look forward to, how long can your sanity remain intact? This series fills in the blanks of the film and gives fans more insight into the world of this chillingly sophisticated story. Marc Andreyko and Patric Reynolds have perfectly captured everything that makes this tale so compelling and conveyed it in a powerful sequentially illustrated package. Look for Let Me In: Crossroads #1 to both entertain and horrify you with smart writing and stark illustration. This is one vampire comic I can't wait to see and I consider it essential reading to enhance enjoyment of the film.

ROCKET MAN: KING OF THE ROCKETMEN #1

Moonstone Books

Contrary to what you've heard I was too young during the days of chapter serials to actual see them in movie theatres. In the early days of television you could believe a man could fly with the help of a jetpack. TV turner knobs as controls and a bullet shaped helmet. The hero of King of the Rocket Men became Commando Cody on TV as chapter serials gave way to weekly series. More recently Dave Steven's The Rocketeer, Innovation's Rocketman, and Penny Farthing Press's Captain Gravity have all paid homage to the classic hero and those days of cinematic thrills.

In Rocket Man: King of the Rocketmen #1 from Moonstone Books the adventure continues as part of their "Return of the Originals" line of comics. In a tale featuring the introduction of a new Rocket Man, Moonstone shows the same attention to detail and respect for the characters they publish including Kolchak the Night Stalker, the Spider, and Honey West.

A blend of pulp era sci-fi, chapter serial adventure, and comics are combined into a new series of stories featuring classic characters!

THREE THIEVES VOLUME 1: TOWER OF TREASURE GN

Kids Can Press

A red-headed acrobat girl, a friendly giant, and a little blue thief tackle a medieval castle's spire riddled with more boobie traps than the Temple of Doom. They're on a quest for the acrobat's missing family, the giant's money for dinner, or the thief's bragging rights — depending on which one you ask. Thrill as they confront the wicked chamberlain, cheer as they escape the noble-but-misguided Captain of the Guards, and settle in for an epic quest as the acrobat and her friends kick off a grand adventure!

Did you like Bone? I thought so. You'll like this. Author Scott Chantler has created something accessible and familiar, but wonderfully fresh and exciting. This title is a prime gateway for young readers to explore and fall in love with the fantasy high-adventure genre. It's also a sweet breath of fresh air for those of us over twelve who still love a great sword and sorcery. Yes, this title is aimed at kids, but if you leave it to the little ones, you're missing out big time.

Paul Ruditis (W), Dave Hoover (A)

An all new 5 issue story arc starts here! Great jumping on point for new readers. Piper is distraught when she finds that her baby daughter has the same orbing power as her part-Whitelighter aunt Paige and worries that it could put her children at risk again as it did when Wyatt was born. Leo decides to make a visit to the Elders for an explanation and is given an intriguing offer but one that would seriously affect his future with Piper. Meanwhile Neena has teamed up with a Darklighter as the two set forth on a Whitelighter killing spree in order to absorb their abilities. Now that she has taken control of the Underworld, Neena has set her sights on the Upper Regions and things are about to heat up!

HOW TO DRAW & PAINT VAMPIRES: A COMPLETE ART COURSE SC

(W) Ian Daniels

The huge popularity of vampires as subjects of novels, graphic novels, films, and other entertainment media has created a steady demand for convincing illustrations of vampires in gothic settings Author Ian Daniels offers inspiration by presenting spooky gothic illustrations in a wide range of styles, which he supplements with tips and tricks for adding those extra details that give each picture a powerful emotional impact. The book is filled with atmospheric full-color illustrations and enlightening instructional sketches. (C 0-1-2)

WETA WORKSHOP

THE ART OF DISTRICT 9 HC

(W) Daniel Falconer

A behind-the-scenes peek into the most visually and technologically stunning film in the past decade, The Art of District 9 will answer the question that everyone has been asking since its release in 2009: how did they do it? Weta Workshop created a world so uncannily realistic that the special effects helped a low-budget film with an unknown cast become a blockbuster hit. This book illuminates the creative design process in the form of hundreds of images of concept art from both the designers and director. (C: 0-1-2)

tokidoki × MARVEL

Marvel Comics, tokidoki & Diamond Comic Distributors return for round 3 with the Spring 2011 release of tokidoki x Marvel. Fans have swooned for the past year over the comic-themed releases from the acclaimed design house and Diamond is pleased to participate again with this first round of releases for 2011. Ladies have four brand new designs to choose from, featuring Captain America, Rogue, Spider-Man or Thor and each shirt is specially cut to fit a woman's figure. The fellas also have brand new looks for 2011, with first-ever appearances by Doctor Octopus and the Avengers being standouts. Add in a new zip-up and pullover fleece (just right for those cold spring mornings!) and wearers are guaranteed to get attention for their hot new threads. Spring 2011 tokidoki x Marvel begins shipping in March 2011.

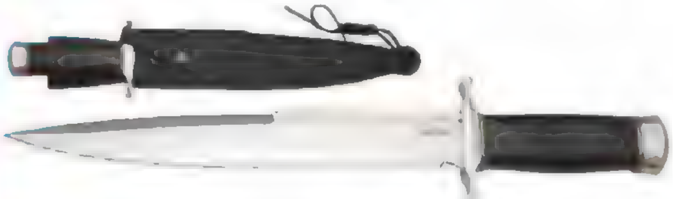
THE EXPENDABLES: HIBBEN BOWIE REPLICA KNIFE

The Expendables is the hard-hitting action/thriller starring Sylvester Stallone, Jason Statham, and Jet Li about a group of mercenaries hired to infiltrate a South American country and overthrow its ruthless dictator. Master knife maker Gil Hibben designed this Bowie knife for the film. This cutlery masterpiece offers a laminated hardwood handle accented by the gold-plated blade catcher and guard which are reminiscent of the styling of original bowies. Expendables artwork is featured on the handle and the gold-plated guard offers cast star designs on both ends. The classic 14" blade is constructed from polished stainless steel and honed to a razor's edge. Includes a leather sheath with Hibben Knives logo and a Certificate of Authenticity. Scheduled to ship in December 2010. (4792/GH5017) (C: 1-1-3) NOTE: Not available in the U.K. or Japan
Replica Knife $129.99



THE EXPENDABLES: HIBBEN OLD WEST TOOTHPICK KNIFE

Gil Hibben has a history of forging knives for Slyvester Stallone to feature in his films, going back to the Rambo III Bowie. Stallone has been an avid collector of Gil's custom knives and that relationship continued when Stallone commissioned Gil to make several knives to use in his new film, The Expendables, which included Gil's popular Old West Toothpick. The Toothpick has been a mainstay of Gil's handmade knife line for many years and this is the first time a production version of it has been offered to the public. It offers a classic Arkansas toothpick style 11 7/8" stainless steel blade with mirrorpolished finish and a solid brass back. Scheduled to ship in December 2010. (4792/GH5019) (C: 1-1-3) NOTE: Not available in the U.K. or Japan

JAMES BOND: THE GOLDEN GUN LIMITED EDITION PROP REPLICA

Seen in the 1974 James Bond film, The Man With the Golden Gun, the Golden Gun is the signature weapon of the "$1 million dollar per shot" assassin, Francisco Scaramanga, portrayed by Sir Christopher Lee. Scaramanga's Golden Gun was made up of seemingly innocuous separate elements that when combined created a deadly single shot handgun. This stunning 1:1 scale prop replica of the Golden Gun, officially licensed by Danjaq LLC and EON Productions, has been created after meticulous study and research of the original props in the EON archives as well as interviews with original cast and crew. With an all metal machined construction and plated in 18-ct. gold, the replica can be assembled and disassembled into its component parts — the fountain pen, lighter, cigarette case, and bullet. Each replica includes a high quality display base, acrylic stand and acrylic cover, detailed prop story booklet, Certificate of Authenticity, and instructions. Limited to 1,000 pieces worldwide. Scheduled to ship in November 2010. (1570/408011) (C: 1-1-3) NOTE: Available only in the United States, Canada, and U.S. Territories

JAMES BOND: JAWS' TEETH SIGNATURE EDITION PROP REPLICA

Introduced in The Spy Who Loved Me in 1977 as a deadly assassin who dispatched people with a bite from his fearsome metal teeth, Jaws returned in 1979's Moonraker and remains a firm favorite among fans and is perhaps one of the most instantly recognizable Bond villains. This stunning 1:1 scale prop replica of Jaws' teeth, officially licensed by Danjaq LLC and EON Productions, has been created after meticulous study and research of the original prop in the EON archives as well as interviews with original cast and crew. Cast in solid highly polished dental grade surgical steel alloy from copies of the original molds used to create the prop teeth, the replica is indistinguishable from the original in every way. Each replica includes a high quality display base, acrylic stand, and acrylic cover with an optional "tram cable" section for those who want to display their replica "in action." Limited to 715 pieces worldwide. Scheduled to ship in November 2010. (1570/408022) (C: 1-1-3) NOTE: Available only in the United States, Canada, and U.S. Territories

JAMES BOND:
SOLITAIRE'S TAROT DECK COLLECTOR'S EDITION PROP REPLICA

Solitaire was the mysterious and gifted psychic played by Jane Seymour in 1973's Live and Let Die who used the tarot to guide and advise the crime boss Kanaga. This beautiful replica of Solitaire's prop tarot cards has been created after meticulous study and research of the original props in the EON archives. The original prop cards were hand-crafted for the production and had deteriorated and faded somewhat with the passage of time Each original prop card has been meticulously restored, including all the subtle variances that are present in hand made work, and been printed onto ultra-heavy weight 400 pt stock and features the striking stylized red "007" pattern seen in the film on the reverse. This replica reproduces the 22 different prop cards produced for the film, with the film accurate titles and artwork, which are different from commercially produced tarot cards The replica card set is presented in a handsome display box and includes a black velvet storage bag. Also included is a Certificate of Authenticity. Scheduled to ship In November 2010. (1570/408032) (C: 1-1-3) NOTE: Available only in the United States, Canada, and U.S. Territories

THE GRINCH: "GOOD BOY MAX" WATERGLOBE

On the mountain peaks far above Whoville there dwelled the Grinch Where the Whos were happy, the Grinch was grumpy. Where the Whos shared, the Grinch was selfish. And then, one Christmas, when the Grinch had had enough, he decided to steal Christmas from the Whos down in Whoville, and with his only friend in the world, the little dog Max, he set out to do just that. This snowglobe, standing 5 1/4" tall with a 3 3/4" round waterglobe based on Dr Seuss' How the Grinch Stole Christmas, depicts the Grinch in one of his rare happy moments, as he pats lovingly the head of his friend Max. (587/811803) (C: 1-1-3) NOTE: Available only within the United States and U.S. Territories

GAMEMASTERING

Gamemastering. No other task is as unpopular in a roleplaying group, and often the gamemaster ends up doing all the work so everyone can enjoy the game! But the job of gamemaster is at least as exciting and unpredictable as taking on the role of a player character. This book provides both beginning and experienced GM's with instructions that are usually neglected in roleplaying game books. How to tailor the game to the group? How to prepare a game in no time? Can one learn to improvise? How to create and structure adventures? These and other questions are answered in a detailed manner including directions, exercises, and examples. Enjoyment always comes first-roleplaying is supposed to be fun and not turn into too much work. Not even for the Gamemaster! (C: 0-1-3)

DRAGONBALL Z: CURSE OF THE BLOOD RUBIES DVD

Deep within the core of the Earth a fire rages. Within the heart of this fire dwells the Eternal Dragon, a magical beast of limitless power that can be summoned from his fiery lair only when the seven magic Dragon Balls — now scattered over the face of the Earth — are found and brought together. When the seven magic Dragon Balls are united, the Eternal Dragon will appear before the adventurer who brought them together and grant that person a single wish. Then, once more the balls will be scattered to the four winds, and the dragon beast will return to his fiery lair until another brave or foolish soul rediscovers the balls and tries to bring them together again. FULLMETAL ALCHEMIST BROTHERHOOD PART 3

Edward and Alphonse Elric's reckless disregard for alchemy's fundamental laws ripped half of Ed's limbs from his body and left Al's soul clinging to a cold suit of armor. To restore what was lost, the brothers scour a war-torn land for the Philosopher's Stone, a fabled relic which grants the ability to perform alchemy in impossible ways. The mythical gem lures exotic alchemists from distant kingdoms, scarring some deeply enough to inspire murder. As the Elrics find their course altered by both enemies and allies, their purpose remains unchanged — and their bond unbreakable. Contains episodes 27-39 (C: 1-1-3) NOTE: Not available in Canada

NIGHT OF THE LIVING DEAD: REANIMATED DVD

Night of the Living Dead: Reanimated is a mass collaborative artistic re-envisioning of George A. Romero's 1968 cult classic, Night of the Living Dead. International artists and animators were invited to select scenes from the film and reinvent them through their artwork. Open to all styles, media and processes the results ran the gamut with scenes created in everything from puppet theater to CGI, hand drawn animation to flash, and oil paintings to tattoos. The result of this project is an experimental take on the cult classic What it forfeits in visual continuity, it gains in variety. (C: 0-1-3)

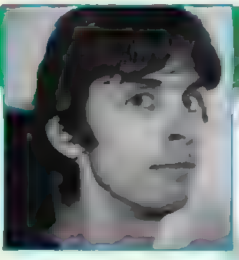
AN AUDIENCE WITH THE ORACLE...



This month, director Patrick Meaney will finally unveil his filmed interview with comics icon, Grant Morrison. Titled Talking with Gods, it is the longest interview with the award-winning creator of The Invisibles, Aztec: The Ultimate Man and Flex Mentallo, as well as dozens of mainstream DC Comics series, including the upcoming Batman, Inc.

With the official release of Talking with Gods coming at the end of this month, PREVIEWS sat down with director Patrick Meaney for the story behind the project...

SUPERMAN
DOOM
FLEX MENTALLO
INVISIBLES

PREVIEWS*: Tell us about your background as a filmmaker.

Patrick Meaney: I've worked on a wide variety of film projects, starting out with my own short films, then branching out into a wide variety of work-for-hire gigs, including a half-hour infomercial, music videos and, most recently, several comedy shorts for Comedy Central's Atom TV. But, my real passion project, other than the Grant doc, is The Third Age (www.thethirdagebegins.com), a dramatic sci-fi influenced web series that was heavily influenced by Grant's work.

P.* What got you into documentary filmmaking?

Patrick: It wasn't so much that I wanted to work on a documentary specifically, as just being really attracted to Grant's story and interested in telling it. This seemed like a logical extension of using the sort of chops I'd developed doing commercial stuff in a more artistic, culturally relevant venture.

P.* Who influences you as a filmmaker?

Patrick: My biggest influence in terms of film style is Wong Kar Wai, a Hong Kong filmmaker who makes the most beautiful, engulfing films I've ever seen. Terence Malick is another big one, they both make films that don't show you things, they make you feel things, and even in the doc world, that's something I wanted to do. David Lynch is also a big influence, and a lot of comics people too, like Jack Kirby, Alan Moore and Grant himself.

P.* Are you a comic reader? If so, how long have you been a comic reader?

Patrick: I am a really big comics reader. I started about ten years ago, when I was in high school. I had read stuff sporadically beforehand, but after reading Watchmen, I was totally hooked and have been into comics ever since.

P.* What titles do you currently read?

Patrick: Grant's stuff is my favorite, so I read everything he does. I also read pretty much all Geoff Johns' works; also most of what Matt Fraction is working on. I also read most of the big Vertigo series, though usually I'll catch up on those in trade format.

P.* What was the impetus for creating a documentary behind Grant Morrison?

Patrick: The direct antecedent was a book I wrote about The Invisibles, called "Our Sentence is Up". After completing the book, I was planning to interview with Grant and film it, and the idea of why not pitch him on doing a documentary came into my head. So, I sent over a proposal and he went for it.

Grant is a great subject for a doc because his life is as interesting as his comics, and knowing about his own experiences makes his comics much more resonant and emotional. I'd always heard a lot of stories about the crossover between his fiction and his life, so making a documentary seemed like a great way to explore that.

P.* How were you introduced to Grant Morrison's work?

Patrick: I first heard about Grant when I read that The Matrix was 'stolen' from a comic book called The Invisibles. I figured I should check out the comic and fell in love with it. After that, I went back and read almost all his past work, and just got more and more immersed in his worlds.

P.* What do you feel is the definitive Grant Morrison title?

Patrick: The Invisibles has elements of pretty much every comic Grant has ever written. It's the culmination of everything he did before, and has the seeds of everything that's come since. It fuses together pretty much everything he's interested in and conveys his personal philosophy and vision of what the world should be. So, that's pretty definitive.

But, if you're into the whole brevity thing, you could also argue for Flex Mentallo, which is his most autobiographical work, and also a treatise on the importance and power of fiction, specifically superhero fiction. If you ever wondered why Grant does what he does, that book answers it.

P.* Which is your favorite body of Grant Morrison's work?

Patrick: For me, it's The Invisibles, which just hit me on an emotional and intellectual level like nothing else I've ever read. The book really changed my life and brought me to where I am today. Other than that, I also love Seven Soldiers, particularly Zatanna, and his run on X-Men.

P.* Who tells the best Grant Morrison stories?

Patrick: We've talked to a lot of people, about 45, over the course of filming the documentary, and heard great stuff from a lot of people. Frank Quitely knows Grant really well, and had a lot of insight into his creative process and life, so he's pretty hard to beat. Mark Waid only had a couple of stories, but they were amazing ones.

P.* Which is the craziest one you heard in the course of creating this documentary?

Patrick: Nobody else's stories could beat the ones that Grant himself told. He told us a story about traveling the kingdom of Scorpion Gods that was pretty amazing. Just getting to talk with him about the specifics of his magical practice is really interesting. You read an interview where someone says "And then I saw a demon," and you might wonder, what exactly does that mean? How did you see it? So, getting to ask those follow-ups gives a much deeper picture of the experience, and I think makes it more grounded and relatable. And, I think what you'll find in talking to Grant about that stuff is that he's very grounded and scientific in his approach, and open to challenges or discussions about what he's seen.

P.* How has the response been so far?

Patrick: The film is just being wrapped up now, so not many people have seen it. We did a screening of the rough cut for Grant himself, which was nerve wracking, but went great. He really seemed to enjoy it. And, when we screened excerpts at San Diego Comic Con, it went over great with the crowd. So hopefully the final film will be equally as well received.

P.* How is the film being distributed?

Patrick: The film is being distributed by Halo 8, an independent distribution company who had a real interest in the film and Grant.

P.* Where can interested viewers see Talking With Gods onscreen?

Patrick: The world premiere will be at New York Comic Con in October. After that, there will be a small theatrical tour of screenings in major cities, then a DVD/On Demand release on October 26th.

P.* What projects are you working on for the future?

Patrick: The next big project is a documentary about Warren Ellis. We've shot many hours of Ellis interview footage already, and I'm about to start going through and editing it down. That documentary will have a more irreverent, experimental approach than the Grant one, and the goal is to convey the experience of reading Ellis's comics in documentary film form, and there is a lot of really fun ideas in the works for that one. The goal is to have this one released a year from now.

Other than that, there's a second season of The Third Age beginning later this year, and some more comics docs projects on the backburner, but still in the works.

P.* Why should a comic reader pick up a copy of Grant Morrison: Talking With Gods?

Patrick: Grant Morrison is one of the biggest, most influential and in my opinion, best, comics writers of all time. This film is the longest sustained interview he's ever done, even if you've read every interview he's ever done, you'll hear and see many things you've never seen before in the film, both from Grant and from nearly all his key collaborators. After seeing the film, I think you'll see all his works through a different lens, and get something new and different from them.

And, even if you haven't read any comics, Grant's a fascinating guy with a strange and exciting life, and a riveting speaker. I've never talked to someone like Grant before, and I think this film will give you the most honest look at Grant that he's ever presented to the public before.

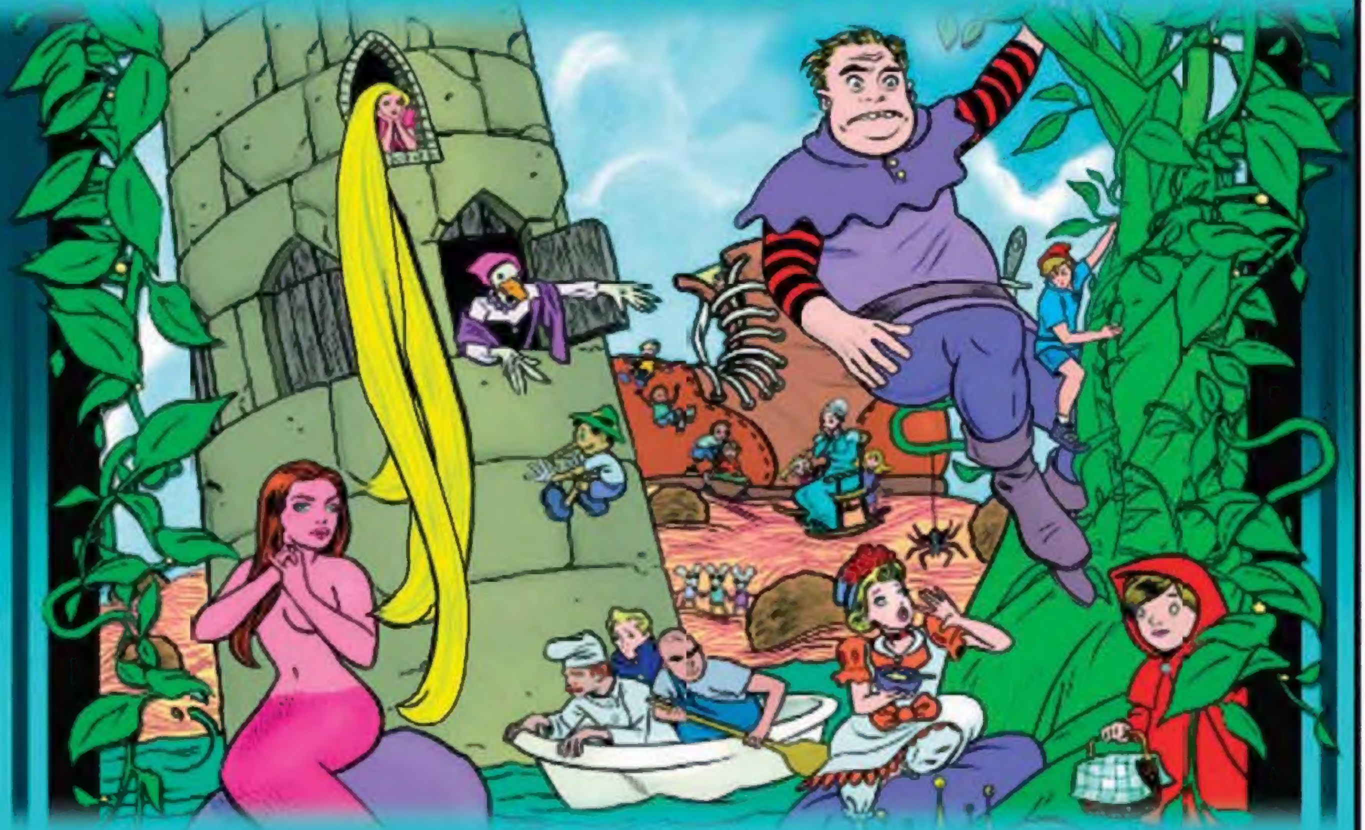
THE VALENTINO EXPERIENCE



Comics have found their way back to kids, with a growing number of publishers producing Kids and All-Ages comics over the past few years. But what makes a comic good for kids, both in terms of quality and entertainment value?

We spoke to Jim Valentino, industry veteran, comics creator extraordinaire and president of Silverline Books, a kids imprint of Image Comics. Silverline is devoted to providing original, high-quality material to bridge the gap between picture books and comics. Read on for Jim's thoughts on kids comics and literacy, Fractured Fables and more.

YOUR HAIR! LET DOWN YOUR HAIR!
WHAT FOR?
SO THAT I MAY COME TO YOUR AID, FAIR DAMSEL!
WELL, OKAY. THIS JUST SEEMS REALLY RANDOM TO ME.

PREVIEWS:* What makes a comic good for kids?

Jim Valentino: I'm sure that if you asked a kid, they'd say humor first and foremost. After all, who among us doesn't like to laugh regardless our age? As an adult, I believe what makes a good comic, book or movie for a kid is one that respects a child's intelligence. No one likes to be talked down to and kids can spot condescension a mile off, probably because they have to deal with it so often.

P*: What do you look for in terms of story content, writing and artwork?

Valentino: A well structured story and excellent art but I also look for a subtle life-message. As suggested above, kids are smart; they understand more than we usually tend to give them credit for. I give them the credit to understand the message without beating them over the head with it.

P*: What can comics do for kids that other mediums can't?

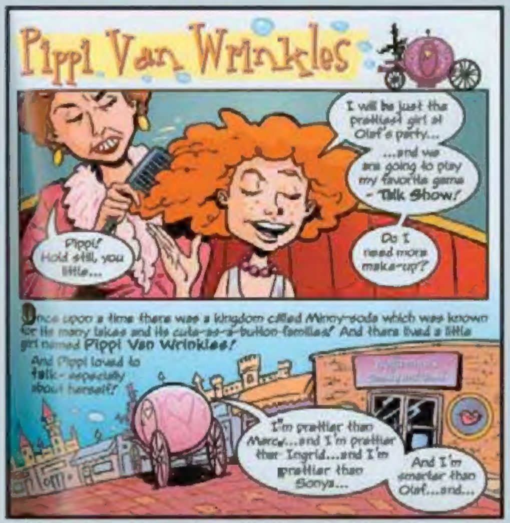
Valentino: Comics are a dual hemisphere experience. The combination of words and pictures create a lasting, indelible impression as story and art complement one another to create an enriching experience that can be revisited in a myriad of ways.



Pippi Van Wrinkles
I will be just the prettiest girl at Olaf's party...
...and we are going to play my favorite game - Talk Show!
Do I need more make-up?
Pippi! Hold still, you little...
Once upon a time there was a kingdom called Minny-soda which was known for its many lakes and its cute-as-a-button-families! And there lived a little girl named Pippi Van Wrinkles!
And Pippi loved to talk - especially about herself!
I'm prettier than Marcy...and I'm prettier than Ingrid...and I'm prettier than Sonya...
And I'm smarter than Olaf...and...

P*: What does it mean to "read" a comic, and how does that relate to other kinds of reading?

Valentino: With a comic you can read both the captions, the dialog balloons, etc and you can read the art — the pictures in the panels. As to how it relates to reading prose or rhymes and poetry, I would suggest that reading is always a good thing. And anything, any form or format that gets a kid to read should be encouraged. Comics may be easier, less intimidating for a child to approach due to this symbiosis of words and pictures.

P*: Did you read comics as a kid? What did you like about them?

Valentino: I did, yes, and I loved everything about them. For me they were like a bolt of lightning from on high. I could read by the time I was four thanks to comics and a very patient mother and they led me into other areas of interest due to their subject matter: history, mythology, astronomy, paleontology and so on. I was and remain to this day a voracious reader and comics played a huge part in that for me.

P*: What was the inspiration for Fractured Fables?

Valentino: We wanted to do an anthology of shorter stories so we could work with some creators we admired who were just too busy to do a full story. The thematic inspiration came from old Jay Ward (Rocky and Bullwinkle) cartoons. They had two segments on that show — one was Aesop's Fables and the other was called Fractured Fairy Tales. So, we got the idea from them!

P*: Do you consider Fractured Fables a kids' comic or an all ages comic? Is there a difference?

Valentino: "All ages" is a term used exclusively in the comics industry to denote content appropriate for children (not all comics or graphic novels are appropriate for children). In the book trade and in libraries, books are broken up by either age or grade level groupings. So, to answer your question, they tend to be synonymous within the comics world. Fractured Fables is targeted at the 9-12 age group.

P: How do the "fractured" fables work with the stories that are being skewed? Do you need to be familiar with the original stories?

Valentino: I would think so, yes. What was delightful in editing the book was how individual creators interpreted those stories. The assignment for the book was "take a familiar fairy tale, fable or nursery rhyme and turn it on its ear to make a kid laugh." Then it was up to the creativity of each creator to interpret that as they saw fit.

P: How does writing for kids differ from writing for older readers?

Valentino: I approach every piece differently. Writing humor is different than writing superheroes, which is different than auto-biography and so on. I believe that the correct approach for writing for children is pretty much the same as the correct approach for dealing with them; understand that they are immature and inexperienced in life, so don't expect them to understand on the same level as an adult—but respect the fact that they are intelligent, sensitive persons in their own right.

That's the philosophy I raised my own children on and it seems to have worked out pretty well.

P: Tell us about some of the other projects you're working on for Silverline Books. What's coming up?

Valentino: Well, we just released Banana Tail's Colorful Adventure, which is a delightful tale of friendship, honesty and forgiveness targeted at younger kids (4-7) and illustrated in CGI, which makes it look more like a Pixar movie on paper. Very unique. We're currently planning a second volume of Fractured Fables, the theme this time will be "What happens after Happily Ever After?" It should be fun, to say the least.
